WOMAN WARS ON WAR IN VOTE RACE

Chief Plank of Feminine Candidate for Senate Calls for Peace

By ROY GIBBONS
OSHKOSH, Wis., July 20.—Mrs. Jessie J. Hooper, who hopes to unseat Senator La Follette and go to the United States senate, is practicing on the adding machine for a strenuous campaign.
The adding machine is in her husband's wholesale grocery store. "I'll count my own votes with it," she says, "and when I get to Washington I'll be better fitted to keep a check on national expenditures."
Mr. Hooper will have no opposition for the Democratic nomination for senator. She is looking toward the November election contest with La Follette and seriously is studying business, via the grocery, to fit herself for the business side of politics.
Her daily routine comprises three hours of clerking, three of management and two of correspondence.
Stands For Peace
Chief plank in her campaign platform is world peace.
The war brought me to the realization that unless women, mothers especially, sought direct representation by their own sex in the high councils of government, the slaying of sons in battle would continue.
"A woman's viewpoint on life is less strenuous than a man's, and therefore I have great expectations that through myself and other possible women senators, we may unite in a feminine bloc forever to make war an impossibility."
"Women give life to the world. Therefore, it is only just that they be given opportunity to make or reject those conditions which have to do with the taking of life. We mothers are sickened unto death of bringing children into the world to feed the maws of cannon."
"Women want a place at the tables of nations' fate. We shall let sympathy and love supplant cold political intrigue in our deliberations."
"Woman's influence in the senate will help," she says.
She endorses the program of the League of Women Voters relating to women and children. She is "unflinchingly dry," and she thinks "the modern girl is all right, although she doesn't like the term 'flapper.'" Says 1922 Girl O. K.
"The girls of this generation are just as fine as those of the past," she says. "Each generation is always criticized by the one that went before."
Mrs. Hooper is 57, a native of Iowa, was married to Ben Hooper in 1888, and has one grown daughter, the wife of Dr. Louis M. Warfield, of Milwaukee.
Although of ample means, she prefers to do her own housework. For years she has been active in charity and welfare work. She has been regent of the local D. A. R., president of the Twentieth Century club, secretary of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and until recently was president of the Wisconsin League of Women Voters, which she helped organize.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO SLAYING

Trial of Beauty In Hammer Murder Is Set for September 18.

Fred W. Gohres, 921 W. 1st St. (United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, July 20.—With eyes flashing, fists clenched and a deep frown furrowing her features, Mrs. Clara Phillips, former chorus girl, accused of the brutal slaying of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, today, in a sharp and angry tone, pleaded not guilty to the charge after District Attorney Woolwine had objected to one of the attorneys for Mrs. Phillips entering the plea for his client.
Mrs. Phillips' sudden and brief outburst gave a courtroom jammed to capacity by a curious crowd its only thrill. Before Woolwine could complete his objection to the actions of Mrs. Phillips' attorney, the defendant turned upon him in a flash and entered a plea in her own behalf. Aside from this one outburst Mrs. Phillips comforted herself with the same calm that has characterized her actions since her arrest.
Object to Charge
Her attorneys, as soon as court was opened, entered a demurrer to the charge of the premeditated murder of Mrs. Meadows. This was overruled by the court.
Then Attorney A. MacDonald for the defense made a plea that the trial be delayed for at least three months.
District Attorney Woolwine objected on statutory grounds and was sustained by the court after Mrs. Phillips had waived the 60 day privilege.
In the courtroom as Mrs. Phillips entered her plea was the clerk of a five and ten cent store who claims to have sold Mrs. Phillips the hammer with which she is alleged to have killed Mrs. Meadows. She watched Mrs. Phillips closely and afterwards was taken to the sheriff's office where she conferred with officers.

REPORT FOOD PRICES HOLD HIGH LEVEL

Cost of Living Still About 50 Per Cent Above Figures for 1914, Says Labor Dept.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The cost of living is holding steadily at about fifty per cent above the 1914 level, but slight changes of from 1.4% decrease to 1% increase have occurred between March and June of this year, according to statistics published today by the department of labor.
Food prices in June were 41% higher than in 1913, but showed a two per cent decline from a year ago.

YOUTH CRUSHED AS BROTHER RUNS 'LIFT'

The life of Willard Middlebrook, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Middlebrook, 1014 West Third street, hung by a thread this afternoon as physicians at the Community Hospital worked desperately to repair injuries which he sustained when he was crushed about 10 a. m. today by the elevator in the Spurgeon building, at the hands of his brother, Gordon Middlebrook, 16.
Willard was rushed to the community hospital, suffering from a fractured wrist, a dislocated collarbone, the fracture of four ribs which were torn away from the spinal column, and possible internal injuries, in addition to multifarious bruises.
Early this afternoon his condition was regarded as critical, although, because of his vitality and youth, hopes were entertained for his recovery.
Tells Accident
Gordon is a regular operator of the elevator, he stated. Because of the illness of the other operator, R. L. Bisy, manager of the building, had asked for the services of the younger brother, who was riding with Gordon, to become accustomed to the operation of the lift. Gordon said that he had made a poor landing on the first floor, the floor of the elevator being several feet below the floor of the lobby. "I opened the door to let Willard out," the broken-hearted boy sobbed. "I told him that I would go up to the second floor, then come down and try to make a better landing."
"He stepped out into the lobby, and I started to ascend. Apparently changing his mind, when the elevator was several feet above the level of the lobby, Willard attempted to dive back into the car."
Calls for Help
"He failed, and the elevator pinned him between its floor and the top of the door."
Frightened by the accident, the frantic boy called for physicians. Three doctors responded, removing the unfortunate lad to the hospital. The Middlebrook family moved

RANDALL IN LEAD IN NEB. VOTE BATTLE

'Business Man Candidate' Passes Rival for G.O.P. Nomination; Bryan Claims Victory.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 20.—The most exciting moment of the count of Tuesday's primary elections in Nebraska occurred at 2:20 p. m. today when Charles W. Randall, Republican candidate for governor on a "business man for governor" platform passed his rival, Adam McMullen of Beatrice, overcoming a precarious lead of 200 votes held by McMullen all morning.
The latest returns from 1,802 precincts out of a total of 1,913 in the state show Randall 446,889; McMullen 46,688.
Democratic backers of C. W. Bryan, brother of W. J. Bryan, are certain of his nomination for governor with the vote giving Bryan 25,192 and Butler 22,987.
R. B. Howell, Republican, will oppose Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Democrat, next fall in the senatorial race. Howell's victory over A. W. Jefferies, Harding Republican and conservative, is looked on as a setback for the administration.

Upton Sinclair After Socialist Toga In Senate

PASADENA, July 20.—Upton Sinclair, noted author and a resident of this city, today announced that he had accepted the invitation of the socialist party of California to seek election as United States senator.
His acceptance, he said, was conditioned upon the single fact that he will make but one speech during his campaign.
"I will speak in Los Angeles just once," said Sinclair today.

FORD'S PLANT BID DRAWS HOT ATTACK

By KENNETH CLARK (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 20.—If congress accepts Henry Ford's offer for the power and nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals, Ala., taxpayers of the nation will lose, in a one hundred-year lease period, $14,500,000,000, or more than half America's cost of the World War, Senator Norris, Nebraska, charged in a minority report of the senate agriculture committee recommending operation of the projects under a federal commission which was submitted to the senate today.
While the Norris report, signed by Senators Norris, Gooding, McNary, Norbeck and McKinley, deals in great detail with the plan for governmental control, much of it is devoted to pointing out what is termed the "unreasonableness of the Ford proposition."

COUNTY BAR IN ENDORSEMENT OF BACKS

Unqualified approval of service rendered by J. M. Backs as county clerk brought a ringing endorsement today from the Orange County Bar association, in the form of a resolution endorsing Backs' candidacy for re-election. This, with discussion of the association's campaign in support of the Sample bill at the coming election, marked the regular meeting and banquet of the organization, held last evening at St. Ann's inn.
The Backs' resolution, issued today to the press, was unanimously adopted at the meeting. It strongly commends the record of Backs as an official. When offered by Secretary Charles D. Swanner, it was promptly supplemented and

NEGLECT BY MEXICO BAR TO RECOGNITION

(United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, July 20.—Responsibility for the impasse reached in the relations between Mexico and the United States was placed squarely at the door of Mexico by administration leaders today.
For the past eighteen months the United States has been waiting for Mexico to make on her own initiative some move toward meeting American objections to her treatment of foreign investors, but Mexico has pursued a "do nothing" policy from all information reaching this government, high officials said.
Four cardinal matters which the Mexican administration has not brought to settlement were cited.
These are:
1. The agreement negotiated in New York for the settlement of the Mexican external debt, which Obregon declares he

Seven Sustain Serious Injuries in San Ardo Crash

(United Press Leased Wire)
SALINAS, Cal., July 20.—Eleven persons were injured, seven seriously, when the Pickwick "night hawk" stage, en route from Los Angeles to San Francisco, leaped over an embankment and overturned in a gulch, near San Ardo, south of Salinas, at 6:10 a. m. today.

The driver of the stage, whose name was unknown here, disappeared immediately following the accident and has not been found.

Lester Lawrence, who occupied the seat on the stage immediately behind the driver, charged that the driver fell asleep at the wheel, permitting the car to plunge off the road.

The injured were brought to hospitals in Salinas aboard a train. The injured were:

Lester Lawrence, San Francisco, scalp cut and bruises.
Paul Baker, 2191 Powell street, San Francisco, bruised left shoulder.

B. Godines, 516 Eddy street, San Francisco, bruised left ankle.
E. W. Mansfield, 527 South Main street, Los Angeles, fractured skull and scalp cut.

Guy Whittaker, soldier, Douglas, Arizona, leg broken, scalp cut.
William Pohley, San Francisco, sprained arm and shoulder.

Edward Jackson, New York city, slight bruises.
Mrs. George Price, 334 Hyde street, San Francisco, bruised head, shoulder and hip.

Mrs. J. H. Wilder, 1464 Dana, Los Angeles, head cut.
George Gratton, Salinas, Cal., concussion of brain, lacerations about head.

Tony Horat, 663 Clay street, San Francisco, concussion of brain.

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Ten passengers were thrown from a Pickwick stage when a milk truck caught the rear axle and overturned the car, according to reports here from San Pedro today.

Harold Branshaw was the driver of the car, it was stated. Another stage of the company has been sent to the scene to investigate the accident, it was said.

"30" BULLETINS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 20.—Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis Cardinal star, knocked his twenty-sixth home run of the season here today in the game with the Boston Braves. This establishes a new home run record for the National League and gives Hornsby the home run lead of both major leagues.

A crew of a dozen workmen today began the construction of a $40,000 gasoline and oil distributing plant on Central avenue, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, Newport Beach, according to word received here. It is understood that the plant will consist of a number of large tanks and buildings.

Negligence on the part of the Utah Construction company, in permitting its workmen to come in proximity to the energized wires of the Southern California Edison company, was responsible, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury at Fullerton today, for the death, by electrocution, of Frank H. Davis, employee of the company. The jury was headed by F. E. Copp.

With Narciso Sienros found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Camille Moreno, at Anaheim, a murder charge was filed today against his brother, Guadalupe Sienros, who was said to have admitted complicity in the killing of Emeterio Escobedo at the same time and place that Mrs. Moreno was slain. Guadalupe Sienros was held at Calexico, where he surrendered. Sheriff C. E. Jackson expected to bring the prisoner to Santa Ana at once.

keep friction where it belongs

Friction consumes power and develops heat and wear.

Sometimes friction is utilized. In the automobile the friction of the clutch transmits the power of the engine to the rear or driving wheels, the friction of the tires and the road surface propels the machine, and the friction of the brakes stops the car. Friction should be confined to the places named (the clutch, the tires and the brakes), if possible.

Lubricating oil used in the automobile to prevent friction at all moving parts in direct contact has friction within itself. This friction has to be overcome by and uses up engine power. The heavier the oil the more its internal friction, the less power it leaves for useful work.

Increasing Power, Speed and Gasoline Mileage

It may be proved that as much as 20% of the power at the driving wheels may be lost through the use of an incorrect oil.

The ideal oil is the thinnest oil which will keep the bearing surfaces separated and at the same time offer in itself the least frictional resistance to the engine power going to the driving wheels.

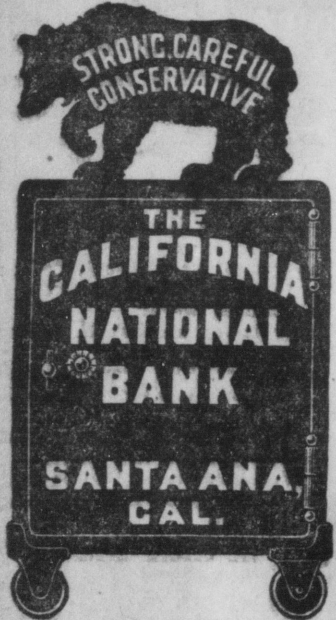

In addition, this oil must have stability to resist engine heat, and it must be pure.

Zerolene meets the conditions perfectly. Made from selected crudes by our own patented high-vacuum process, it has great "cleanliness," which causes it to cling to bearing surfaces while offering itself a minimum of frictional resistance to the engine power; it has great stability to resist engine heat, and it is pure.

Zerolene reduces friction, and permits the development of the maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage of the car.

COUNTY BAR ASSN. SUPPORTING BACKS

seconded by other members of the bar, who united in warm praise of the county clerk.

Discussion of the sample bill, which provides that, with certain exceptions, the handling of legal business be restricted to members of the legal profession, was directed last night toward the proper method of bringing the bill's merits most forcibly before the voters in November. The report of the organization committee, as read by Chairman W. F. Menton, suggested forms of advertising, including circulars, addressing clubs and organizations, and personal effort among friends and clients.

"Vote yes on the sample bill" is, in effect the slogan that will be carried to the voters by the bar association, it was agreed.

The campaign will not be launched until after the primaries, possibly not until approximately 30 days before the general election, should the suggestion of U. S. District Attorney Joe C. Burke, who was present last night, be followed. Burke advised that the first wave of literature, urging other measures, be allowed to subside before the bar association decides on its form of advertising and begins its drive.

On motion of Attorney Clyde Bishop, the organization committee report was ordered filed and the committee continued for further suggestions. The sum of $100 was voted as a contribution to the campaign being waged by Los Angeles county's bar members.

The association went on record last night as declining to endorse any candidate for the post of federal judge, as proposed in legislation now said to be pending in Congress. Provision is made in the legislation, it is said, for adding 25 more federal judges in the United States, one to be located in the Southern district of California. Burke was authority for the information that there are 21 candidates already in the field for the post.

Former Judge W. H. Thomas was elected last night as a delegate from the Orange County association to the convention of the state bar association in San Francisco, August 7, and to the National Bar association convention immediately following. President H. C. Head was authorized to appoint two additional delegates.

It was decided to dispense with the August meeting of the association and a committee was named to arrange for the September meeting.

Serve Banquet
An excellent banquet was served by the Inn management last night to the following members of the bar association and others: Judge R. Y. Williams, U. S. District Attorney Joe C. Burke, District Attorney A. P. Nelson, H. C. Head, W. F. Menton, Stanley Reinhaus, G. K. Scovel, George H. Gohar, Leonard Evans, Clyde Bishop, J. N. Anderson, Charles D. Swanner, Z. B. West Jr., L. A. West, W. B. Williams, J. M. Backs, and C. D. Brown.

Following is the text of the resolution, endorsing the candidacy of J. M. Backs for county clerk: "Whereas, the members of the Orange County Bar association are in daily contact with the county clerk's office, and in a position to judge of the qualifications of the present incumbent; and

Whereas, J. M. Backs has for the past eight years shown himself to be qualified in every particular for the position; and has by his courteous treatment merited our thanks and consideration;

Now, therefore be it resolved: That the Orange County Bar association go on record as unanimously endorsing the candidacy of J. M. Backs for re-election to the office of county clerk of Orange county.

Be it further resolved, that this resolution be spread on the minutes of the bar association, and that copies of the same be furnished to the press of Orange county.

ASSESSMENTS DUE IN PAVING JOB FIGURED

Edward Dahl, street superintendent, today figured assessments due on parcels of land in the assessment district created for the paving of Cypress avenue, from Chestnut avenue south to McFadden street. The district embraces the territory between those two streets for a half a block on each side of Cypress.

It is expected the assessment map will be approved by the city council at its meeting next Monday evening. The following day the street superintendent will deliver a warrant to the contractor, Steele Finley, at which time the assessments will become payable.

Girls Beware of Wrinkles That Form Around Eyes or Mouth

When They Appear, As They Surely Will, Try This Successful Treatment.

The most dependable and effective method I know of is to massage them with an old-time buttermilk cream recipe made by Howard Bros. of Buffalo, N. Y., rubbing gently across the line of the wrinkles to bring new fresh blood to the surface. If you will do this for about five minutes each night before retiring no other treatment is necessary. Howard's Buttermilk Cream is obtainable at any up-to-date drug or toilet goods counter and no matter whether you are troubled with wrinkles, hard little lines around eyes and mouth; coarse, shallow, faded looking skin or simply roughness and redness caused by wind or sun, you will find these troubles quickly disappear with the use of this old fashioned recipe brought up-to-date. Remember, the name, Howard's Buttermilk Cream. If you cannot obtain locally send 10 cents (silver or stamps) for generous trial package of both Cream and Soap. Howard Bros. A young mosquito noted that a dog enjoyed a friendly pat upon the back or on the head; "Doesn't it hurt the insect said. "Hurt" said the dog, why, it's a joy to get a pat or two, my boy."

Next time a hand was poised to hit the skelter smiled and welcomed it. "Alas," he cried, with his last breath, "One's joy may prove another's death!"

NEWS BRIEFS

Arthur Cohen, secretary of the Anaheim American Legion post, today announced that the post would accept an offer of $6500 for its lot at the corner of Clementine street and Broadway, Anaheim.

The money from the sale will be used to equip the club rooms of the Legion in the Anaheim city hall, he said.

Nevada? Arizona? New Mexico? Have you ever lived in one of these states? If you have, pack your picnic lunch and attend the joint reunion, July 29, in Bixby park, Long Beach. Coffee will be furnished free. The committee has made extensive plans for a good time, according to announcement made today.

The Motor Transit company, operating motor stage lines in seven counties in Southern California, including Orange county, has requested permission of the railroad commission to extend its line from Riverside to Redlands, via Highgrove and Loma Linda, serving all intermediate points, according to word received here today.

G. W. Knox and O. E. Steward, city engineers of Santa Ana and Anaheim, respectively, upon whom will devolve largely the decision as to the type of pipe to be used in the joint outfall sewer to be constructed by the two cities, left today for St. Louis, Mo., where they will investigate the manufacture and service given by vitrified pipe made under the Ferguson block method of construction. The engineers will be gone two or three weeks.

Floyd Scott, assistant farm advisor, who has decided to devote his time to real estate, today tendered his resignation to the officials of the university agricultural extension service at Berkeley. The assistant farm advisor, who has many friends in Orange county, will continue the business association with C. A. Price, subdivider of Country Club Gardens, on South Main street.

Services marking the funeral of William B. Park jr., who died last Saturday at Orange from pneumonia, are to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Smith and Tutill chapel here. The Rev. B. C. Cory, pastor of the Highland Park Methodist church, of Los Angeles, is to officiate, assisted by the Rev. F. S. Simpson, of the First Methodist church of Orange. Interment will be made at the Fairhaven cemetery. Eugene Park, brother of the deceased, was expected to arrive today from his home in Philadelphia. Mrs. Roy Bomers and Mrs. Verne Parker, sisters, have arrived from Calexico to attend the funeral.

BURKE PRAISED IN U. S. JURY RESOLUTION

That Joe C. Burke, former Santa Ana attorney, is more than "making good" as United States district attorney for Southern California, and is "ably administering the law" in suppressing an amazing wave of organized crime, was the substance today of a resolution adopted by the federal grand jury in Los Angeles, which called Burke a "bulwark of safety and protection to the people."

Setting forth that it has been closely connected for the past six months with Burke's office in the administration of justice, the grand jury expresses appreciation of Burke and his aides, not only for courtesy and consideration but for able and efficient means used in enforcing the law. Appreciation is also expressed for considerate treatment received from Federal Judges O. A. Trippett and B. P. Bledsoe.

"As grand jurors we are astonished and amazed at the evidence brought before us of organized crime and determined efforts put forth by certain elements to violate the laws of the United States; but we are gratified at the able and efficient law enforcement and are convinced that this district has a bulwark of safety and protection in this able administration of the law," the resolution states.

Out of 120 cases presented before the grand jury by Burke's office, indictments were returned upon 103.

NAB FOUR AS DEATH PROBE PROGRESSES

Four Mexicans, whose names were guarded by the authorities, were held in custody today by Sheriff C. E. Jackson in connection with the investigation of suspicious circumstances attending the death of Isabel Saldona, of La Habra.

The quartette now in jail were said to have been with Saldona on the day his body was found on the Pacific Electric track between Fullerton and La Habra. Their arrest was effected as the first step in the sheriff's probe of the case.

All were fellow employees of Saldona, it is said, and on the day of Saldona's death, the five Mexicans were said to have been seen together, all drinking.

The authorities declined to accept Saldona's death as being caused by the electric car that struck him. Jackson believes that he was killed by human agency and his body left on the tracks.

and is preparing to start drilling there at about the time the work is undertaken at Buaro, it was stated.

Mrs. H. L. Jones, 712 Bush street, today was receiving the congratulations of friends on her escape from injury when she accidentally knocked over a container of canned heat at her home, setting fire to the premises. Firemen, responding to the alarm, quickly extinguished the flames. The loss was nominal.

CHICAGO EXPECTS STREET CAR STRIKE

CHICAGO, July 20.—By refusing a compromise offer of the Chicago surface lines, leaders of the carmen's union virtually assured a strike of street car and elevated employees in Chicago. Predictions were that the strike will be long and troubled. The offer to the men was a cut of 15 cents an hour.

MARKETS WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, July 20.—Encouraged by further new highs above the industrial average on Wednesday and the continued indifference of stock prices toward the labor situation, operations for the rise went ahead in many sections of the market on the New York Stock Exchange today. With a background of a good investment demand for good railroad and industrial bonds which was as pronounced as any time since the first of the year, new highs on the current movement were accepted, by such standard stocks as Steel Common, Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania. One conclusion follows the manner in which the securities have ignored the coal and rail strike, it is that the present abundance of funds seeking investment and the outlook for a steady unfolding of trade activity, are factors which so far outweigh the labor perplexities that the aggregate wisdom of the business world represented in the stock and bond market has seen fit to overlook strike troubles. The market closed irregular.

Closing prices:
United States Steel 101 5-8, up 1-8;

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
CHICAGO, July 20.—Grain prices closed irregular on the Chicago Board of Trade today, following a day of fractional fluctuations and dull trading. Wheat showed strength at the close. Decreased demand for corn from the exporters held the market about steady.

Oats continued steady and prices remained quiet during the day in sympathy with other grains. Provisions were higher.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Trading continues quiet. Baggage retailers were buying in very limited quantities as movement into consumptive channels has fallen off very materially.

Turlock and Delano cantaloupes were in fair demand, prices ranging from $1.50 to $1.75 on standard crates with pink inside selling as high as $2. The quality of Imperial cantaloupes is not so dependable and standard crates sold from $1 to $1.50.
Prices on watermelons now range from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 a pound.
Tomatoes are weak and movement is slow. Merced lugs sold from $1 to $1.10 each while fancy and San Diego tomatoes sold as high as $1.35 each.

Loved Young Missionary Showered With Gifts for Foreign Home

An unusually happy event in connection with the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church, was the shower given yesterday to Miss Doris Wells, who leaves early in August to take up her life work as missionary in city evangelistic work in Calcutta, India.

In an interesting talk given during the afternoon, Miss Wells spoke of the local church, as her "home" church where she has been a member ever since 1905, and told of her decision six years ago, to be a missionary.

She volunteered for the foreign field during a young people's meeting at Huntington Beach, at approximately the time that the local society members were praying that they might send out a representative to the foreign field. "Our Doris," as she is affectionately known, was the answer to that prayer.

It was a pretty sight to see the young girl surrounded by the friends who love her so dearly, as she unwrapped and exhibited the contents of two trunks of gifts which she will take with her for use on her long trip and in her future home.

There will be a church reception for Miss Wells on Friday, July 28, when every society of the church will be represented, with the Epworth League in charge of the program to be presented.

Since yesterday was the day for the regular monthly meeting of the society, the opening devotional service was led by Mrs. Fred Finlay. The program was divided into two parts, the evangelistic work and the medical work.

The following subdivisions of the evangelistic work were ably explained: senata work by Mrs. French; city work by Mrs. Miller; district work by Mrs. W. R. Freeman; Bible training schools, Miss Fitz; Mela or fair preaching, Mrs. J. D. Palmer.

The medical work was an intensive study of conditions of women in India with reference to the great good accruing through medical work. The talk was excellently given by Dr. Evalena Poe, who has made special study along such lines.

Miss Alma Steward, one of the delegates at the recent Pacific Branch Quarterly meeting held in the First M. E. church of Long Beach, gave a splendid account of the happenings of the quarter as told at this meeting.

Mrs. The Winbiger with Mrs. J. W. McCormack at the piano very sweetly sang an appropriate missionary number, "The Hundredth Sheep." At the close of the program the hostess committee served punch and cake and a happy social hour was held.

Personals

Nat H. Neff, of the county highway department, and his family were located today at Big Bear for an outing of two weeks.

Mrs. Allison Weaver of Santa Anna, Texas, arrived recently for a month's visit with her aunt and cousin, Mrs. H. S. Tarver and Miss Fanny Ada Tarver of Bush street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Kendall, 311 Cypress street, have departed on an automobile trip to San Diego where they will vacation for the next two weeks. J. E. Pearce, of North Van Ness street, has returned from a four day motor trip to San Diego where he combined pleasure with the business of handling several carloads of honey.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Miles of South Ross street are spending a two weeks' vacation in the northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schlasman, 1201 West Fifth street, have returned to Santa Ana from a week's vacation at Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Winans, the B. B. Darnells, the Roy Johnsons and the John Sauters left today for an automobile trip to the Big Basin near Santa Cruz and will be absent about ten days.

Mrs. Elmer Schaniel, one of the assistants in the county recorder's office, with Mr. Schaniel is enjoying a motor trip to the Yosemite and San Francisco.

Miss Ruby Cameron, also of the recorder's office, is spending her vacation with an aunt residing at Rio Nito on the Russian river.

Daughters of Confederacy

Keen interest is felt among the members of the Daughters of the Confederacy who have all received invitations to a luncheon to be held at Birch Park Saturday, July 22, when the Confederate veterans will act as hosts.

Colonel Kimberley is arranging details of the affair, and a delightful day is planned with a picnic luncheon to be served at the noon hour, and the afternoon to be spent in social enjoyment.

The House that Jack Built Yields Perfumed Gifts for August Bride

"The house that Jack built," that classic of childhood, was the appropriate basis for a cleverly arranged shower with which a trio of hostesses, Miss Gertrude Montgomery, Miss Louise Montgomery and Miss Fannie Ada Tarver last night honored Miss Margaret Stump and her approaching marriage to Jack Colvin.

Miss Stump and a little group of about twenty of her close friends were invited to the pleasant Montgomery home, 1418 North Main street, to enjoy an evening at "hearts" and were welcomed by their hostesses, amid a charming arrangement of dahlias, hydrangeas, roses and asters in delicate pastel tints.

Arranged on a central table were the tally cards in the pastel colors of pink, yellow, lavender and blue, harmonizing with the floral appointments, while pencils, tied with delicate hued ribbons, each bore a tiny crepe paper parasol, adding to the decorative effect.

In the gay contest which followed, Mrs. Farwell P. Hull was victor and received as a gift, a dainty little pottery jar of English workmanship, whose clay was perturbed in the making and which continued to scent the atmosphere.

Miss Marie Golden was consoled with a quaint Japanese incense burner, both gifts carrying out the motif of the affair which was a "fragrance shower."

The guests were then assembled in the dining room where the table bore "the house that Jack built" surrounded by a pretty garland. From doors and windows led the mystic maze of a spider web, and as each girl followed the tinted ribbon whose number she drew, she found one of the quaint prophecies figuring in the nursery rhyme.

The corn, the rat, the "cock that crew at morn," all were in evidence and formed attractive little party favors. When Miss Stump wound the last ribbon, it led her to the bag that held the mait "that lay in the house that Jack built," and the bag held a veritable treasure of gifts fragrant and perfumed, ranging from a hand-painted pot-pourri to pretty boudoir caps fragrant with sachet, as well as the literal scents and toilet articles.

After the lovely gifts had been examined and admired, all returned to the living rooms where card tables had been spread with dainty linens and decked with crystal bowls of orchid dahlias. There, a supper menu of frozen salad, sandwiches, individual cakes iced in pink, and coffee was served. Supper favors of candy corsage bouquets in pastel tints decorated each service plate.

The marriage of Miss Stump and Mr. Colvin will be an event of August and the popular bride-to-be is proving the incentive for a number of delightful affairs largely of a "showery" nature.

Of last night's trio of charming hostesses, Miss Tarver is a cousin of the Misses Montgomery and arrived in the city nearly a year ago with her mother, Mrs. H. S. Tarver. They are located on Bush street, but are contemplating a return in the near future to their home in Dallas, Texas.

TAKE TESTIMONY IN LABOR SERVICE CASE

Trial of Walter D. Young's suit to secure judgment for $360 from the Western Seaboard Oil company, was under way today before Superior Judge K. S. Mahon. Young, who was represented by the legal firm, Scarborough, Forky and Reinhaus, brought his action in connection with a claim for labor furnished the defendant.

L. A. MAN JAILED IN NON-SUPPORT CASE

Cecil Hart, 32, employee of a Los Angeles ice company, was held in the county jail here today under $500 bail, while awaiting his preliminary examination on a charge of failing to support his family. The hearing is set for July 24 at 10 a. m. in Justice J. B. Cox's court.

Hart was arrested by City Marshal Sam Jernigan late yesterday, while in this city. He was turned over to Sheriff C. E. Jackson, who held a felony warrant for the prisoner.

Straightline Frocks Find Favor in Paris

During the hot weather smart Parisian women are wearing simple straightline frocks of white crepe de chine or georgette.

The frocks are fairly short and narrow, often with short sleeves. The only trimmings used are rows of fagoting or fine pleating. Short capes to match accompany them.

Printed materials are also popular just now and are for the most part shown in an all-over foliage pattern in black and white.

Waistlines continue to stay just a little below normal, although they are expected to rise rapidly as the thermometer falls. Skirts are worn about eight inches from the floor in the daytime and about five inches in the evening, with panels and points dropping even lower than that.

Little Maid's Arrival Cause for Congratulation

Little Miss Mildred Lillian Taylor, whose present address is Community hospital, but who will soon be at home to her friends at the Wintersburg home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Taylor, is receiving felicitations upon her arrival on Tuesday, July 18.

Little Miss Mildred received an unusually cordial greeting at the hospital for it was there that her young mother, Mrs. Taylor as Miss Blanche Foote, daughter of Mrs. Georgia C. Foote, 610 West Second street, received her nurse's training course.

Rotarians of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Orange to Dance at Balboa

Once in so often the impulse to go skylarking sweeps over the Rotarians and then interesting things are pretty sure to happen. In accordance with that well-known fact, the Balboa pavilion to morrow night will probably see an unusually light-hearted and nimble-footed crowd, for the Rotarians of Orange and Anaheim are going to join the Santa Ana bunch and make a dancing party that will considerably augment the usual Friday night crowd at the pavilion.

Earl Morrow, chairman of the Santa Ana Rotary club's entertainment committee with the efficient help of Don Loveridge, Elmer Heidt, Fred Rowland and Gus Daley, the remaining committee members, planned the affair and were joined enthusiastically in the plan by Frank Hallman and Ed Chapman of the Orange Rotarians and Ed Snyder and Barney Hartfield of the Anaheim body.

It is anticipated that at least fifty couples will represent the three organizations and enjoy a lively evening.

Who Has Canned Fruit To Shower on Boys of Camp Kearney?

How many Santa Ana housewives who are proud of the quality, appearance and taste of their canned fruit, are willing to share some of it with the poor tubercular lads of the A. E. F. who are now at Camp Kearney?

Dr. Percy Magill and Miss Julia Magill are wondering, for they are planning to leave about Saturday of this week for Camp Kearney with their automobile filled with preserves, jellies and syrup fruits of all kinds, the gift of Santa Ana women to the soldier boys.

The local Legion auxiliary has assumed charge of the tubercular ward at the camp, and everyone knows the value of fruit in the diet of such patients, aside from the pleasure in the taste of home-canned products. These boys are knowing the fruits of their service abroad, surely other fruits need not be denied them. Who will add to the shower by leaving as many cans as they can spare with Mrs. Harold Nelson, 1103 North Broadway, or phoning her where she should call for it?

PROBES DEATH OF MAN ELECTROCUTED

Coroner Charles D. Brown conducted an inquest today at Fullerton over the body of Frank Davis, 28, who was instantly killed by coming in contact with a high voltage wire near that city late yesterday.

Davis, whose home was at Spanish Fork, Utah, was employed on a Union Pacific construction crew, engaged in building a concrete bridge across a ravine on the Bastanchury ranch. He was standing on the bridge when the power line struck him.

The inquest was set for 10 a. m. today at the McAlau ayundatark parlors, where the body was being held for burial. Relatives in Spanish Fork have been notified of his death.

PAINS ACROSS SMALL OF BACK

Husband Helped in Housework.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Strong

Foster, Oregon.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains across the small of my back. They bothered me so badly that I could do my work only with the help of my husband. One day he saw the 'ad.' in our paper telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing for women, so I began to take it. It has helped me wonderfully. I am feeling fine, do all my housework and washing for seven in the family. I have been irregular too, and now am all right. I am telling my friends what it has done for me and am sure it will do good for others. You can use this letter as a testimonial. I will stand up for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound any time."

Mrs. Wm. J. Hume, Foster, Oregon. Doing the housework for a family of seven is some task. If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irregularities, are easily tired out and irritable, or have other disagreeable ailments caused by some weakness, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Let it help you.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunions to become normal, but also reduces goitre, enlarged glands and warts.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Your druggist can supply you.—adv.

JACK HOLT AND SYLVIA BREAMER

As they appear in a scene in "The Man Unconquerable", due at the West End tonight.

Tonight's Attractions. YOST—Raymond Hitchcock in "The Beauty Shop," vaudeville. WEST END—Jack Holt in "The Unconquerable."

PRINCESS—Richard Talmadge in "Watch Him Step."

NOTED PLAYERS IN "BEAUTY SHOP" AT YOST. The most unusual cast ever assembled for a screen comedy is to be seen in "The Beauty Shop" now at the Yost. Raymond Hitchcock, who starred in the original musical comedy by Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf, is the featured player in the screen version, recreating the role of Dr. Arbutus Budd.

Billy B. Van, the famous comedian, and James J. Corbett, his stage partner and formerly heavy weight boxing champion, have important roles. Louise Fazenda, known to millions as a delightful comedienne, again plays the part of a homely girl, but this time she has a chance—at the end of the picture—to appear as she really is—a very attractive young woman.

Diana Allen, who has graced several of Ziegfeld's productions, including the "Pollies" and "The Century Girl," is seen as the lovely ward of Dr. Arbutus Budd. Montagu Love, popular leading man, and an actor with a creditable stage career, is the villain of the piece.

Those charming and beautiful twins Madeline and Marion Fairbanks, play twin parts in "The Beauty Shop." Laurence Wheat, leading man, completes the list of principals.

LOOK WHO'S COMING. Do you remember Maurice Costello—you fans of yesteryear? Of course you do.

He is to be here on the Yost screen tomorrow night in the seven-reel production, "Conceit," which appeared as a serial in Munsey's under the title, "The Toll of the Wilderness," by Michael J. Phillips. Hedda Hopper and Betty Hiltburn, William B. Davidson, Patrick Hartigan and Warren Cook are also in the cast. "Conceit" is a drama of society and the wilderness and is said to tell a very interesting screen story.

RICHARD TALMADGE AT THE PRINCESS. Richard Talmadge, who has won a large following here, is starting at the Princess tonight and tomorrow in his latest film production, "Watch Him Step." It is said to be quite up to the standard set in his previous pictures shown at the Princess. Talmadge is the youth who is a protégé of Douglas Fairbanks and, in a sense has stepped into Doug's athletic shoes in coveting about the silver sheet where he is never still a minute.

CARE OF THE EYES

BY DR. ROY S. HORTON
OP-TOM-ETRIST

Pointers for Eyeglass Wearers

It is just as important to have correctly fitting frames as correctly ground lenses. It is essential to good vision that the centers of the lenses come exactly opposite the centers of the pupils of the eyes and with ill-fitting frames this most important essential may be absent. The glasses should not be too wide or too narrow for the eyes, as in either case they have a tendency to produce double vision. The bridge should fit the nose so that wobbling would be impossible. Such wobbling puts both lenses out of center. Never keep a pair of glasses for reading on the face a moment longer than you are looking at some near object. Don't wear glasses too close to the eyes. It prevents proper circulation of the air and causes uncomfortable irritation.

The proper reading distance is 12 to 14 inches from the eyes. Always turn your back to the source of light when reading or let the light fall over your left shoulder so that the light may fall on the book or paper instead of coming into the eyes. Always lean back when reading and hold the book up or if this is not possible rest the book on a table in such a manner that top and bottom of page are equally far from the eyes. Never read, or permit your children to read, with an imperfect light. Short sight, or near-sightedness, is often produced in this way, especially in young people. If necessary to do so, it is somewhat of a help to hold a card under each line, moving the card down as you read. Never read when the body is exhausted and read but little when recovering from an illness. Do not sleep in a bed so placed that the eyes are opposite to a window and never read when lying down in bed. Women should avoid the use of thick or dotted veils and they should not do needlework with dark material by artificial light.

Many persons are culpably negligent of their children's eyes, early attention to which would very often obviate lifelong annoyances and possible injury to physical health. If a child of yours complains that he cannot see clearly, that he has dull pains in the region of the eyes, or that he is subject to headaches; or if he leans or looks at objects with partly closed eyes, he is suffering from some defect of vision and it is your parental duty to at once consult an optometrist lest your negligence or indifference result in permanent injury. Always have your children's eyes examined by a competent optometrist before going back to school.

Frequently people will get spectacles which suit them and will go on wearing them for years without having their eyes examined to discover whether any change has taken place. This is decidedly wrong. All who wear glasses should have their eyes examined by an optometrist at intervals, even if the necessity for such may not be apparent to them. As a general rule, lenses for old sight require changing about every two to three years, but it is advisable that the eyes be examined every two years.

GRILL HAMMER
YEGG IN S. A.
BURGLARY

If James Steelman, 27, alleged sledge-hammer yegg, who is under arrest in Salt Lake City, wills under the severe third degree which the Utah officials, at the request of City Marshal Sam Jernigan, are going to give him, and admits his connection with the Spicer Dry Goods store safebreaking episode here about eight weeks ago, he will be called upon to face charges here, authorities stated today.

Steelman was arrested in Salt Lake City, charged with having robbed several safes, and because of the peculiar manner in which he gained entrance to the vaults there, the attention of Marshal Jernigan was attracted to him.

Steelman is said to have pried off the combinations of the safe with a drill and sledge, a more or less unique method.

Wires to Salt Lake. Because of the fact that the Spicer robbery, in which the thief or thieves obtained $500, was thought to have been performed in this same manner, Jernigan today dispatched a message to the Salt Lake police, asking them to quiz thoroughly the man in custody, to secure from him, if possible, a confession of guilt regarding the local robbery.

The burglars gained entrance to the Spicer store by ascending the stairway of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank, climbing to the roof of the Spicer building, and descending, probably by means of a rope ladder, through a skylight, into the office where the safe was located.

When the janitor reached the office the next morning, he found the contents of the safe, minus the $500 and a package of checks, strewn about the floor.

Police Probe Burglaries. Officers discovered that the combination had been hammered off, allowing the tumbler to fall, and the safe to open.

Several other burglaries in Santa Ana, committed almost simultaneously, were executed in the same way, the police say.

Several days after the Spicer robbery, a package of checks, mailed in Los Angeles, was returned to the store.

Steelman is said to be sought in San Diego, Fresno, Billings, Mont.; Cheyenne, Wyo., and other Western cities for similar offenses.

Jernigan was waiting to hear from the Salt Lake officials before swearing to a complaint against the man, he stated today.

REPORT DAMAGE TO MACHINES IN FOUR CAR CRASHES HERE

Damage to several automobiles that figured in various traffic accidents in or near Santa Ana was reported today at police headquarters.

J. W. Griffin, of Garden Grove, reported that an unidentified truck knocked a front wheel off of his car near Tustin. Griffin was driving past a car parked beside the highway when the truck passed him from the rear, he said. After brushing away the wheel of his car, the truck proceeded without stopping, Griffin said.

D. B. Mears, 117 El Portal street, reported that while his car was standing parked at the curb near Sixth and Main streets late yesterday, another machine was backed into it, causing some damage.

A collision took place at Fourth and Olive streets yesterday between a car driven by L. R. Harris, 315 West Seventeenth street, and a truck belonging to the Sanitary bakery. Harris was turning around at the intersection when the accident took place.

C. L. Dalnord, of Los Angeles, driver for the United Cleaners and Dyers, reported a collision between his car and another machine, late yesterday at Fifth and Spurgeon streets.

TO PUT VET IN STATE LEGION
OFFICE RACE

When delegates from Orange county gather at the American Legion's convention at San Jose next September, they probably will present a candidate of their own for one of the high offices in the state organization, it was learned here today.

Members of the Orange county council, American Legion, in their monthly meeting at the clubrooms of the Orange post there last night, discussed the advisability of bringing forward some Orange county man to run as vice-commander of the state legion or as one of the executive committeemen.

The proposition was held over until the next meeting of the council in Santa Ana August 10. At that time, it is expected, official action will be taken and a man will be selected to be placed on the ballot at the San Jose conclave.

When the Santa Ana Post No. 121 meets at Orange county park July 27 for its open picnic, it is believed that a local Legionnaire will be named as the post's choice for whatever office the county council may aim at. Members of the Women's auxiliary will be the honored guests at the picnic, it was announced.

The council recommended that all posts in the county hold some ritual ceremonies at meetings. Post commanders were appointed as a committee to supervise this work and instruct teams in putting on the exercises.

Maurice Enderle, post commander, Clyde Whitney, post adjutant, and D. W. Tubbs attended the council gathering from Santa Ana.

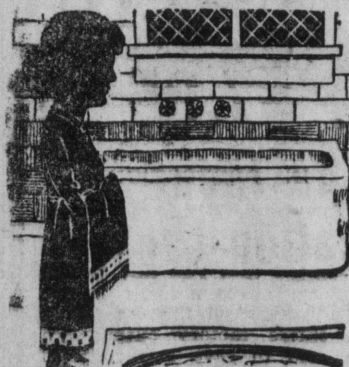

Says His Prescription
Has Powerful Influence
Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenru, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenru with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.—adv.

SPOKANE JUDGE TO HEAR CASES IN S. F.

After Federal Judge Maurice T. Dooling had arranged the July-September calendar of his court yesterday it was announced that Federal Judge Frank H. Rudkin of Spokane, Wash., would hear the cases set down for trial. Judge Dooling, it was understood in Federal circles, plans to leave this week-end on his annual vacation.

The criminal jury, which will be called to try the various cases on the calendar, will be impaneled July 31. Judge Rudkin, it was stated yesterday, will be here July 27 to care for preliminary matters coming on before the regular summer-fall session of court.

SACRAMENTO SUES TO REDUCE LIGHT RATE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—The city of Sacramento complained to the Railroad Commission today against the rates charged by the Pacific Gas and Electric company for street lighting at the capital, claiming that they are far in excess of those assessed to San Jose. The municipality asks reparation for the alleged excessive rates collected. It recites that it paid during April and May of 1921 $6.06 per month for each arc light and, thereafter, $5.83 up to the present time.

During this period the San Jose charge, the petition states, was $4.96 for equivalent service. It adds that there are no conditions making the cost of service less at San Jose than at Sacramento. The difference for the period involved is given as $13,203.42, which amount the city seeks to recover.

The Electrical Contractor and How to Find Him

THERE is only one kind of electrical contractor whom you can afford to employ. That is the qualified, responsible technician, who employs only good workmanship, uses only standard materials and who charges a fair price.

The "check" seal on electrical merchandise is a helpful guide in choosing a contractor. The Pacific States Electric Company in an effort to safeguard both the consumer and the responsible technicians and dealers in the electrical industry, has established this means of identifying standard electrical materials and appliances and competent electrical contracting service.

Our long experience in the electrical business has given us a technical competence which, together with our demonstrated policy of using only standard materials and charging fair prices, permits us to operate under the "check" seal.

You will enjoy the new booklet "The Electrical How for Householders," which lists a variety of standard electrical materials and appliances, and describes their use in the course of a typical day in an electrified home. We will supply you a copy free upon request.

PROGRAM OF BIG REGATTA AT HARBOR ANNOUNCED

Sensations Looming in Blackmailing of Jurist

FLEETS' ENTRY INTO PORT TO BE FEATURE

Issuance today by the Southern California Yachting association of the program for the annual regatta at Orange county harbor August 6-12 brought to yachtsmen of the state full details of the big program scheduled for the week.

According to Claude G. Putnam, of Los Angeles, port commander for the association, the finish of the Pacific International Yacht Racing association schooner race from San Francisco to Newport bay, and welcoming the arrival of fleets from San Pedro, Santa Barbara, San Diego and San Francisco will be the feature of Sunday, August 6. The Los Angeles Yacht club will arrive in squadron formation.

The appearance of the vessels in group formation as they sail into the harbor will be one of the greatest sights ever witnessed there, Putnam declared.

Monday the yachtsmen will rest and prepare for the four-day racing program starting Tuesday morning.

Huge illuminated parade. The first activity of the visiting yachtsmen will be Monday evening, when they will enter craft in the annual illuminated parade and tournament of lights. Preparations being made for this event indicate that it will be one of the greatest of its kind ever staged in California harbors.

Putnam declares that hundreds of decorated floats will pass up and down the line of the illuminated yachts. The line of the latter, he asserts, will extend from the mouth of the bay to a point beyond the headquarters of the Newport Harbor Yacht club.

The Lipton cup race may take place Friday, August 10. The date of the event will be definitely decided later, it was announced.

To make club identification of the various craft easy for spectators and yachtsmen, a key to racing numbers on sailing yachts has been arranged as follows:

Letter A preceding the number on the sail of a yacht signifies that yacht is a member of the Los Angeles Yacht club; B, Santa Barbara; C, California Yacht club; D, San Diego; N, Newport; the crescent and the winged foot, Los Angeles Athletic club. The Los Angeles Motor boat club has consolidated with the L. A. Y. C. and will be known by the letter A, of that club.

Allotment of racing trophies will be as follows:

Santa Barbara Yacht club cup will be presented to winner in Sea Mew class; L. A. A. C. cup to winner in Star class; L. A. Y. C. cup to winner in 610 cubic inch displacement class; C. Y. C. cup to winner in Q class; S. D. Y. C. cup to winner in P class; N. H. Y. C. cup to winner of the power cruiser race; Rear Commodore W. S. Panton's cup to winner of one of the free-for-all speed boat races; City of Newport Beach cup to winner second free-for-all speed boat races; the R. Clarkson Coleman marine painting to the winner of the schooner races, painting to be hung in clubhouse with which winner is identified; George S. Coleman marine painting to skipper of winner of schooner race; Woolf Bird trophy, to winner of a race that will be announced during regatta.

Starting with Tuesday, the regatta program will be as follows:

10 a. m., first of a series of speed boat races for the 610 cu. in. displacement class over the outside course; 11 a. m., first of a series of races for the Sea Mew class over the inside course; 11 a. m., first of a series of two heats for the 810 cu. in. displacement class of speed boats over the outside course; 1 p. m., first of a series of races for the Star class sloops over the outside course; 1:05 p. m., first of a series of races for the R class sloops over the outside course; 1:10 p. m., first of a series of races for the Q class sloops over the outside course; 1:15 p. m., first of a series of races for the P & N class sloops over the outside course; 1:20 p. m., yawl race over the outside course.

Evening—Opening regatta dance in compliment to the visiting yachtsmen at the Balboa pavilion; welcoming address by Mayor J. J. Schnitzer and response by Dr. A. Albert Soland, admiral of the S. C. Y. A.

Wednesday, August 8—10 a. m., second heat, 610 cu. in. displacement speed boats; 11 a. m., second heat, Sea Mew race, inside; 11 a. m., free-for-all class speed boat race over the outside course for Rear Commodore W. S. Panton's cup; 1 p. m., second heat, Star class sloops; 1:05 p. m., second heat, R class sloops; 1:10 p. m., R class handicap class race; 1:15 p. m., second heat, Q class sloops; 1:20 p. m., second heat, P & N class sloops; 1:25 p. m., power cruiser race in three classes, Class C; 2:05 p. m., power cruiser race, Class B; 2:10 p. m., power cruiser race, Class A.

Evening—Entertainment at the club provided by the organization of sea-going Woolf Birds; many surprises promised.

Thursday, August 9—10 a. m., third heat, 610 cu. in. displacement speed boats; 11 a. m., third heat, Sea Mews race; 11 a. m., second heat, 810 cu. in. displacement speed boats; 1 p. m., third heat, Star class sloops; 1:05 p. m., third heat, R class sloops; 1:10 p. m., second heat, R class handicap race; 1:15 p. m., third heat, Q class sloops; 1:20 p. m., third heat, P & N class sloops; 1:25 p. m., second heat, schooner race; 2 p. m., power cruiser race in three classes, Class C; 2:05 p. m., power cruiser race, Class B; 2:10 p. m., power cruiser race, Class A.

Evening—Boat-to-boat visitation, (stag) details later.

Friday, August 10—10 a. m., last heat, 610 cu. in. displacement speed boat class; 11 a. m., last heat, Sea Mew class; 11 a. m., free-for-all speed boat race over outside course for the City of Newport Beach trophy; 1 p. m., last heat, Star class sloops; 1:05 p. m., last heat, R class sloops; 1:10 p. m., last heat, Q class sloops; 1:15 p. m., last heat, P & N class sloops; 1:20 p. m., last heat, P & N class sloops.

Evening—Dinner at clubhouse and presentation of cups and trophies to the winners by Frank Smith, commodore of the N. H. Y. C.

Saturday, August 11—Farewell party at the clubhouse.

MAN SUED FOR DIVORCE HERE IS TRAPPED

Sensational developments in connection with the arrest in Riverside of Otto E. Hardtke, Corona rancher and former Huntington Beach oil worker, charged with attempted blackmail and extortion, came to light here today.

According to Riverside advices, Hardtke, whose wife, Alice B. Hardtke, is suing him for divorce in Orange county, was arrested yesterday as the result of a clever legal trap laid by Superior Judge George R. Freeman and District Attorney Loyal Kelley of Riverside.

Hardtke, when he is arraigned, will be charged with a deliberate attempt to mulct Judge Freeman of $5,000. Prior to assuming his duties as superior judge, Freeman acted as attorney for Hardtke and his wife.

Hardtke, it is asserted, called on Judge Freeman a week ago last Sunday and discussed the matter of a property settlement with Mrs. Hardtke. The judge agreed to talk with her about it.

On Monday of this week, Judge Freeman declared, Hardtke again called on him and demanded $5,000, under penalty of a damage suit and intimations of his belief that improper relations existed between Judge Freeman and Mrs. Hardtke.

Judge Lays Trap After some bickering, according to Judge Freeman, Hardtke agreed to accept $2,000. Judge Freeman thereupon conferred with District Attorney Kelley. The latter went to Los Angeles, enlisted the services of a Burns detective, procured a dictaphone, and returned to Riverside.

At a pre-arranged meeting in the Evans block, Judge Freeman met Hardtke, completed the final details of the arrangement, and paid him $2,000, in $100 bills obtained from the Citizens' National bank of Riverside.

The alleged blackmailer, according to Judge Freeman, signed a statement in acceptance of the money, but insisted that the judge sign an agreement that the money had been paid voluntarily. Officers, stationed outside the Evans building, took Hardtke into custody as he emerged with Judge Freeman. The bills, secretly marked and identified by the bank's serial numbers, were found in his possession.

According to statements attributed to Mrs. Hardtke, who is described as attractive and highly intelligent, Hardtke recently met her at Prado, between Santa Ana and Riverside, and intimated that he intended securing money in this manner from at least eight prominent men.

Move to Mulct Beach Man One of the men named by Mrs. Hardtke, it is said, is well known in business and civic circles at Huntington Beach.

The most likely prospect, however, was Judge Freeman of Riverside, Hardtke is asserted to have told his wife. She remonstrated with him, denied his allegations, and refused to have further dealings with him.

Mrs. Hardtke's divorce action, now on file in this city, makes sensational charges against Hardtke. She asserts that he wilfully inflicted upon her grievous mental suffering, refused to speak to her for weeks at a time, struck her in the face with his fist, told her to get out of their Huntington Beach home, beat, kicked and mutilated dumb animals to cause her mental anguish, and threatened to "finish her."

Among other things, Mrs. Hardtke charges that Hardtke, who was an employee of the Amalgamated Oil company, insisted that she go to work, made her don male attire and work in the fields, and caused her great bodily and mental suffering.

Claims He Kicked Her "On or about April 8, 1922," the complaint sets forth, "he struck her on the hand with a screw driver, tearing loose a large piece of flesh, kicked and hit her, and told her he would 'push her teeth in.'"

On other occasions, according to the complaint, he tried to tear her clothing off, rounded her with his fists, yelled at her, used insulting language, and compelled her to get out of bed at night, without allowing her to start a fire, although she was suffering from cold and was "in fear of her life."

Mrs. Hardtke, described as a woman of good family connections in or near Boston, was married to Hardtke in Milwaukee, Wis., July 24, 1919. In Riverside, where she is now working under her maiden name, it was said that Mrs. Hardtke met Hardtke while he was acting as chauffeur for her relatives in the East.

The couple have no children and separated last May. Mrs. Hardtke declares that her husband owns a $12,000 ranch near Corona, has $1,500 invested in Germany and owns an automobile and ranch stock worth several hundred dollars.

Complaint Transferred Her complaint, originally filed by Bishop and Wellington of Santa Ana, has been transferred to Attorney Thomas T. Porteous of Riverside. She asks an equitable property settlement.

Hardtke, in an answer filed by Abrahams and D'Orr of Los Angeles, denies her allegations in toto, claims the ranch is worth only $7,000, and asserts that an amicable property settlement has already been arranged. The divorce action was scheduled to be heard here within the immediate future. Hardtke is now in the Riverside county jail awaiting arraignment on charges of extortion.

Riverside Mayor to Tell Rotarians Here of Boulder Dam

S. C. Evans, mayor of Riverside, will address the Santa Ana Rotary club at its meeting next Tuesday at St. Ann's Inn, Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Savings bank and who is chairman of next week's program committee, announced today.

The mayor will discuss the Boulder dam project on the Colorado river. He recently returned from Washington where he and other representatives of Southern California municipalities conferred with Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and Albert Fall, secretary of the interior, and the members of the congressional committee investigating the dam project.

CITY BUILDING RECORDS ARE BROKEN IN BIG RUSH

School Permit Sends Year Record to More Than Entire 1921 Mark

TOTAL IS $2,132,960

Architect Works on Plans for New Structures to Cost $100,000

Santa Ana building records were smashed into bits today.

When W. S. Decker, city building inspector, issued a permit for $73,000 for the construction and plumbing contracts on the new Washington school on North Main street, the year's building mark passed that set during the entire twelve months of 1921, which was a record year.

The 1922 total to date is $2,132,960.

The record for the entire year of 1921 was $2,058,348.

New Buildings Planned
At the same time W. W. Kays, local architect, announced that he was working on plans for three new business structures in the city which will total approximately $100,000. Construction work on these, he intimated, may begin within thirty days.

"The prosperity period is unprecedented," Building Inspector Decker declared, "but it is here to stay. The permit issued to the John Simpson company of Los Angeles for the Washington school work set the July building mark at $247,770.

"I would not be surprised to see the month's total reach the $400,000 mark. The year's record will be closer to $3,500,000 than $3,000,000, I believe.

Permits Average $2496
The $12 permits issued so far this year have averaged $2496 each as against $1635 in 1921 and $1923 in 1920.

Prosperity Projectiles

Workmen of the National Construction company, in charge of contracts for the John Muir school on East Fourth street and the Lowell school on South Flower street, today were pouring concrete into the forms for the walls. The foundations were finished last week. Seventy Santa Ana men are employed in the two projects, using, to a large extent, material purchased here. The walls will be of reinforced concrete.

DELAY SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

Although the Yoch residence on the site for the new Washington school on North Main street has been razed and the material carried away, the John Simpson company of Los Angeles, which recently was awarded the contract for the building, had not begun construction activities today.

Work on the administration building and stock room at Church and Sycamore streets for the board of education is nearing completion. Bowman and Preble, contractors in charge of the work, announced that the building would be ready for occupancy by August 15.

BEGINS BIG BEACH JOB

J. S. Fluor, local contractor, has begun work on the big compressor plant at Long Beach for the Industrial Fuel Supply company. The plant will be of six units and will cost approximately $150,000.

RUSH CHAPMAN BUILDING PLANS

Architect M. Eugene Durfee of Anaheim is completing plans and will take bids on the general contract about the latter part of July for the modern five-story, steel frame office building which C. C. Chapman, Fullerton capitalist, will erect at the corner of Spadra and Wilshire avenues, Fullerton.

The building, which is to be of steel construction with terra cotta finish, will measure 70 by 130 feet and will cost approximately $175,000. The contract for the steel work has been let to the Union Iron Works of Los Angeles and that for furnishing the steel joints, lathing and fire-proofing to William H. Wilson of Los Angeles.

S. A. FIRM GETS CONTRACT

The J. G. Robertson Electric company of Santa Ana today was proceeding with plans to construct the ornamental street lighting system of fifteen reinforced concrete posts and globes on North Pine street between East Chapman and East Palm avenues, Orange, having been awarded the contract by the Orange city trustees. The Robertson company's bid was $2375.

NEW CITY HALL ASSURED

That the proposed new city hall at Fullerton will be constructed this fall without a bond issue, was assured today when it was announced that virtually $100,000 was in a fund for that purpose.

Architect W. Horace Austin of Long Beach is preparing plans for the new building, which will be of brick and terra cotta construction and will house the city departments, the G. A. R., American Legion and other civic departments. The structure will be located on Spadra avenue between Wilshire and Whiting avenues.

BEGIN STORE ALTERATIONS

Contractor G. A. Barrows today was in the midst of building operations at the Hill and Son Hardware company store at 213 East Fourth street, where a third story will be added and other improvements made. The work will cost $30,000. The Hill store will continue to remain open during the improvement work, it was announced.

NEW ICE PLANT UNDER WAY

With Contractor J. S. Fluor expecting to complete construction work in about three weeks on the new plant on East Chestnut avenue for the Santa Ana Commercial company it was expected today that the making of ice in the establishment would begin in about six weeks.

The structure alone will cost approximately $20,000. New machinery is to be installed and other improvements will run the total close to $75,000, it is expected.

TO AWARD BASEMENT CONTRACT

Contracts were to be awarded here today for the basement work on the new Ramona building which L. D. Mercereau will erect at the southeast corner of Fifth and Sycamore streets. Williams and Echols have completed the excavations.

The other two contracts, those for the frame work and for the finishing, will be let separately, Mercereau announced. The new two-story store and office structure will cost approximately $45,000.

BEGIN PACKING OF BEANS AT PLANT HERE

Company Hires 325 Women, 75 Men with Payroll Daily of $1000

The huge Santa Ana plant on East First street of the California Packing corporation today was in full swing on a campaign of Orange county products which will take it well into December.

With 325 women and 75 men employed, a payroll averaging between $800 and $1000 a day and the plant receiving between twenty and thirty tons of green string beans every day, Manager C. C. Cornett said that the present run would last at least thirty days more and that fully 40,000 cans would be shipped from the establishment to be opened in kitchens in virtually every state in the union.

As soon as the run on string beans is completed, the packing plant will begin on California chilis. Pimientos will follow that product.

Labor Supply Plentiful
"We have found that the supply of labor has just about equaled what was necessary to operate our establishment," Cornett said. "Many of our women employees are girl students out for their vacations. They work eight hours and the older women ten hours. All are paid by piece work. Cutters and stringers receive $2.15 for 100 pounds.

"As the beans are received at the doors of the plant they are weighed and then distributed to the cutters who snip the ends by hand. Here, also, they are checked and mechanically graded.

"Moved to the canning tables, the beans are placed in cans, packed and weighed. The cans are then sent to the processing machines, the entire operation taking about twenty-five minutes.

Cans Are Labeled
"When this work is completed, the cans are labeled with the brand of the California Packing corporation, showing the date and the plant number.

"Then the cans are sent to the warehouses, whence they are shipped as we receive orders from the main offices of the corporation." Cornett said that the force of employees would number approximately 400 persons throughout the campaign on the three different products.

EDUCATORS TRY TO SELL 5 LOTS. FAIL

Five staid members of the Santa Ana board of education today were felled-fledged real estate dealers.

Five city lots, two off West Fifth street and three on West Fifth street, were placed on the market by the local educators.

The property consists of a subdivision of the old Fifth street school site.

Several weeks ago the board offered these lots for sale at a total cost of $6000. The fourth street lots were to be sold at $1500 cash each and those on Fifth street for $1000 cash each.

But when time for receiving bids closed yesterday, Secretary F. L. Andrews had not received a single, solitary offer for a single, solitary lot.

Admitting that the board of education needs the money during the coming year, members today said that the property would be re-advertised and another effort made to dispose of the lots.

SHOESTRING STRIP EXPRESSION LOOMS

Petitions were being prepared today for circulation among the voters in the territory proposed to be annexed to Santa Ana as a shoestring strip to Orange county harbor, asking the city council to arrange for an election in the district.

The signatures of ten per cent of the voters of the district will be necessary to make the petition effective, it was said. The election will be held only in the new territory. If the vote is favorable the city council can pass an ordinance accepting the strip.

It was asserted today by an interested person that little difficulty would be experienced in procuring the requisite number of signatures. It is proposed to annex a strip one-half mile wide on each side of Main street south from the city limits to Newport boulevard, with the width narrowing to half a mile south from the boulevard to the harbor.

It is maintained by annexation advocates that Santa Ana should have frontage on Newport bay for the development of an industrial city. It also is pointed out that grounds are available on the bay bluffs for the establishment of ideal recreational grounds.

NAME OF VALLEJO CHANGE PROPOSED

VALLEJO, July 20.—A movement is on foot to change either the name of Vallejo or the Mare island naval base. The idea originated at the banquet held last Saturday night in honor of Admiral L. E. Gregory, U. S. N., Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks. Some of the originators of the idea favor changing the name of Mare island to that of the Vallejo navy yard, such as was done at the Brooklyn navy yard when it was named New York, and as the League island verd, which is now called Philadelphia. Others were of the idea that, while millions of people knew about Mare island as a result of the recent naval base campaigns before congress, it would be better to change the name of Vallejo to that of Mare Island City. A straw vote is to be taken on the proposition, it is said.

CANDIDATE GIVES UP RACE FOR CONGRESS

SANTA BARBARA, July 20.—J. Rodney Thompson, Santa Barbara attorney, who was endorsed at a meeting of Democratic leaders held recently in San Francisco as the party candidate for congressman from the Eight district, announced yesterday he would not make the race. He said political motives had nothing to do with his decision but that he could spare neither the time nor the money necessary to make a thorough campaign in so large a district.

HUGE CITY INCREASE IS FEATURE OF REPORT FOR CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY

Santa Ana ranks sixth in the Southwest in the amount of building operations during the first six months of 1922.

The city moved into fifth place for the month of June with its total of $548,072.

These facts, reflecting the unwavering era of city expansion, became known here today when they were compiled from figures printed in the last issue of the Southwest Builder and Contractor, Los Angeles trade journal.

The thirty-five principal cities in Southern California and Arizona were included in the statistics.

Santa Ana was surpassed only by Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pasadena, Glendale and San Diego. The city had a greater mark than such communities as Phoenix, Ariz., Riverside, Pomona, Bakersfield, Santa Barbara, Santa Monica, Alhambra and San Bernardino.

City Triples Record

Santa Ana, with its six-month building valuation of $1,854,250, more than tripled its record for the same period last year when permits totalling $603,936 were issued.

The local June mark sent Santa Ana ahead of Glendale for the month and only $60,000 behind San Diego, a city of 75,000 population.

Anaheim ranked sixteenth in the 1922 figures, Fullerton seventeenth, Huntington Beach twentieth, Orange twenty-fifth and Newport Beach thirtieth.

Building operations throughout the Southwest showed a tremendous gain in comparison with those for the corresponding period of the previous year.

The thirty-five cities reported a total valuation of $96,122,459, for the first half of 1922, as against $60,404,972 for the first half of 1921.

Here Are Figures
Here are the figures for the Southwest cities during the first half of 1922 and 1921:

Build Better Buildings

TO BUILD 100 HOUSES HERE IN 1923

Convinced by experience that purchasers here develop as rapidly as houses are completed, G. H. Bunting, prominent local builder, today announced that he is planning to erect 100 new residences in Santa Ana during 1923.

Bunting has construction work at this time under way on six dwellings, located in various parts of the city, with plans ready for four more. He expects to complete others before the end of the year.

Bunting formerly was engaged in the building business here, returning a few months ago, after an absence of one and a half years. Since then he has erected a number of dwellings which he has sold as soon as they were completed, he said.

"The growth and expansion of Santa Ana in the past two years is not a circumstance as compared with what the development will be in the next two years," Bunting said.

"This is not 'hot air.' I am so strongly of this conviction that I am now making arrangements for the construction of not less than 100 houses during the year 1923. I have no doubt of my ability to sell them just as quickly as they are completed. Persons are coming here to live. That is evident. Santa Ana and Orange county are becoming known throughout the East for their prosperity and progressive advancement, and each year will see an increase in the number of families locating in this city. If we have the houses ready for them they will buy—and when they buy they become permanent residents."

HAWAIIAN VOLCANO BREAKS OUT AGAIN

HONOLULU, July 20.—Kilauea volcano, whose lake of molten lava some weeks ago dropped hundreds of feet and led to speculation as to whether the crater ever again would be active, broke forth again today with its old-time vigor. Lava spouted 100 feet from the bottom, making a livid pool 300 feet in diameter, with brilliant molten fountains spraying forty feet into the air.

OPERATORS WARNED TO REDUCE PRICES

DENVER, Colo., July 20.—State troops now patrolling Colorado's northern coal fields, will be withdrawn unless coal operators rescind recent increases in prices, Governor Shoup announced here.

Governor Shoup issued a statement charging it was the "height of ingratitude for coal operators to increase prices while the state was paying for guards to enable the mines to operate." The statement declares that wages of the miners have not been increased and that "unnecessary advances in the prices of fuel are not to the public interest at this time . . . particularly when the nation is now facing a fuel shortage."

"As governor," the statement concludes, "I mobilized a part of the National Guard and authorized the enlistment of additional state rangers to protect operating mines and miners who wanted to work. I did this in the interest of the public at large, not for the protection of anyone's pocketbook."

CITY CHURCH FOLK ATTEND GATHERING OF PRESBYTERIANS

The Rev. J. A. Stevenson and Mrs. Stevenson are attending the Presbyterian synod of California and Arizona, which opened this afternoon at Pasadena.

Fifteen hundred to 2000 visitors are expected to arrive, representing all parts of both states. Dr. Warren Hall Landon, moderator for California, will preach an opening sermon tonight at the Pasadena First Presbyterian church, though a preliminary session of the synod was held this afternoon.

Tomorrow morning the Women's Synodical Society of Home Missions will have its first meeting. The Foreign Synodical society will meet Saturday morning.

Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, Mrs. W. W. Anderson and Mrs. W. E. Ward will represent the local Women's Missionary society.

Others attending from Santa Ana will be W. W. Anderson and Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Calder. Dr. Calder has been temporarily occupying the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church in this city in the Rev. Mr. Stevenson's absence.

PLAN PARK MUSIC CONCERT TONIGHT

Music lovers of Santa Ana were today eagerly looking forward to the second weekly orchestra concert at 7:45 this evening at Birch park, when Langley's twenty-five-piece orchestra, assisted by Maurice Phillips, popular baritone soloist, will render a program.

When the first concert was staged last Thursday evening, the venture was in the nature of a trial. It was hoped that the orchestra's volume would prove sufficient, and that the popular demand would follow.

The hopes were realized, and plans for four more weekly events of this sort, including the one tonight, made. In addition to selections by the instrumentalists, a popular vocal soloist is secured each week to assist.

FRAUD ALLEGED IN OIL STOCK TRANSACTION

Conversation with an oil stock salesman, enthusiastic description of an oil well that was going to be drilled, sign of a note for $1,000, secured by a mortgage on real estate, promise of five .003 interests in the oil to be produced—nothing in writing but the note and mortgage.

The above description of a transaction in oil stock was given today by attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Elias Hill, of Orange, who filed suit in the superior court against H. L. Bentley, asking that the note and mortgage be declared void and title to the property be quieted by a court decree. Attorney L. F. Coburn, of Orange, represents the plaintiffs.

Mortgage Executed
The conversation mentioned was said to have been between the Hills and Bentley or his agents. The note and mortgage were executed by the Hills, who reside at Center and Culver streets, Orange.

"There was no consideration received for the note or mortgage," said Coburn, in commenting on the case. "The Hills received absolutely nothing in return—no agreement, no contract, nothing but promises."

"The promise was that they were to receive five .003 interests in the oil from some well to be drilled some time at some place. They were told, I think, that the place was to be Signal Hill. Others were told by the same parties, I understand, that the well was to be located at Santa Fe Springs. And literature issued by the same people place it at Huntington Beach."

In their complaint, the Hills allege that the note was secured from them through fraudulent means, advantage being taken of their asserted ignorance of business affairs.

They demanded return of the note and mortgage after executing them, they declare, and such return was promised them but the promise, they assert, was not kept.

ARRESTS PUT STOP TO USE OF BEACH AS MOTOR SPEEDWAY

NEWPORT, July 20.—"The two arrests for driving automobiles and motorcycles since the ordinance went into effect in November, 1921, prohibiting the use of the beach as a speedway shows that prompt arrests and heavy fines imposed have made themselves felt," said City Marshal J. A. Porter, in an interview here today.

"The beach is the natural playground and park for the children and their safety must be our first consideration," he added.

When questioned about arrests for drunkenness and disorderly conduct Porter said:

"We made two arrests a week ago last Saturday night and none last Saturday night, so we feel that we have gotten all the bootleggers spotted here and few dare come in."

HISTORIC RELICS ARE DONATED TO STANFORD

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 20.—The diary of Roger Bull, covering a march made by troops through Connecticut in 1776; a leaf from the famous Charter Oak; the telescope used by General John C. BEST 'CHOW' AT CAMP SERVED COMPANY F

That members of Santa Ana Company F, California National guard, now in camp at Del Monte, Monterey county, are receiving the best "grub" of any organization there, was the word reaching here today.

According to the guardsmen, Cooks Heard, Burrall and Iles are delivering food "that is there a million." Mess Sergeant Elliott comes in for a good word for allowing the local men to get in line with their mess kits for second helpings.

The meal served to the company yesterday consisted of the following: Breakfast—mush and milk, hash, bread, stewed prunes and coffee. Dinner—roast beef, brown potatoes, rice pudding, bread and lemonade. Supper—steak, boiled potatoes and gravy, string beans, coffee, bread and butter.

The local company will be on camp guard duty from next Saturday to next Sunday noon, it was learned here. From Sunday noon, however, the members will be allowed to leave camp until taps next Monday night.

Company F engaged in a five-mile hike last Tuesday afternoon to watch a company of army regulars in a sham battle.

According to word received here, the daily schedule for the local men runs as follows: first call at 5:30 a. m.; morning mess at 7 a. m.; drill from 7 to 11:15 a. m.; noon mess at 12 m.; drill from 1:15 to 5 p. m.; retreat at 5:25 p. m.; mess at 6 p. m.; call to quarters at 9:30 p. m. and taps at 10 p. m.

McINTYRE BROS. ROYALTY SYNDICATE OPERATING AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

To China, Africa, to Australia to All Parts of the World, These Checks Go

—BRINGING HAPPINESS and the realization that a carefully studied investment in OIL, with men who promise nothing that they cannot fulfill, is worth days of laborious toil. Think what the success of our Huntington Beach operations means to not only our Long Beach deed holders, but to those in distant lands who had faith and vision!

Success, Wealth, Luxury—a Tangible Reality to Those Who Act!

—Here again is proven the profitability of linking up with a reputable group of men who not only desire to make money for themselves in OIL, but to keep faith with those who go in with them.

Who knows what these dividend checks may mean to the fortunate recipients? Success, an ambition realized, education, a home possibly wealth and luxury!

—If they could predict that money placed in Huntington Beach could net the man handsome return, certainly those living within a short distance of this unparalleled opportunity could have investigated this proposition without half the effort, and with a much greater knowledge of where their money was invested and with whom.

—And all the success attained is not LUCK! Indeed no—but is the result of a carefully planned, a carefully investigated step in getting in on the profitable side of OIL DEVELOPMENT—owning a definite piece of land and receiving the royalties due from that land. Not hit nor miss—but WISDOM and FORESIGHT!

See

Santa Fe Springs Oil Field!

From lip to lip the story of this sensational field has passed, descriptions of flowing wealth so colorful and so vivid that exaggeration would be futile. Giant wells with their amazing production are accumulating wealth unthought of. The scramble for acreage has been unlike that ever seen before. It is an oil field, proven, yet in its veritable infancy when compared with what will be accomplished. See it! Marvel in it! Become a part of it. We'll help you—if you'll let us!

Comfortable Busses Take You There Every Day Except Monday

You Can't Share in Huntington Beach—But Santa Fe Springs Is Equally as Good

CERTAINLY OPPORTUNITY IS YOURS! Our first well is at the 2000-foot depth, rapidly approaching the sands which have made possible the big wells of the field. No long waiting, no delay—we are shooting ahead with all speed, right in the heart of the Santa Fe Springs oil field. We are surrounded by the big fellows who knew WHERE to lease.

In the Heart of Production, You May Share in McIntyre's Santa Fe Springs Wells!

With such activity in full swing, and with the knowledge that McIntyre's have made a SUCCESS at Huntington Beach and intend to repeat it in Santa Fe Springs, don't sit idly by with folded hands, closed to conviction. We ask that you at least come to the field and look things over—and SELL YOURSELF on the money-making possibilities of our project.

With the wonderful location that we have, consider what it means to have your own equipment, and the advice and supervision of three skilled Field Superintendents and Geologists. Our manner of operation is business like, we know the oil game, our proposition is clean-cut, square—and we have a conscience!

With honest hearts and eager hands, successfully wresting this wealth from nature's storehouse, can you turn your back on this invitation? Think of the possibilities of profit—and what could be done with dividends such as announced above, dividends that are not a dream of ambitious men, but a reality easily within reach.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The strange and unexplained eccentricity of three wealthy, sedate and middle-aged brothers has caused OWEN MILES, detective sergeant, and his colleague, FERGUS MCCREARY, known as "Scottie," to investigate on the request of PATRICIA DRAKE, daughter of the youngest brother, HOBART DRAKE, a Wall Street broker, who startled his neighbors by appearing in the town square, clothed in a sheet, and delivering a mock oration. Miles, in the guise of a houseman, is employed at the home, and on his first night hears two brothers, ROGER, the scientist, and ANDREW, who has recently come from Australia, talking in loud tones. Roger, by making a burlesque of a scientific paper, and Andrew, by playing with tops on the parlor floor, has equaled Hobart in eccentricity.

"I'm not going to endure it," Miles heard Roger cry. "There is a way out, quick and sure."

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"You're talking like an ass and worse—a coward!" Andrew interrupted with sudden, subdued fury. "Jerry's all right but you've forgotten Hobart's girl! Could she live down the fact that her uncle was a suicide?"

"You know what chance we have of averting what is coming!" Roger laughed in a strained falsetto which made the listening detective shudder in spite of himself and there was a quick movement within the room. "Pat had better live with the knowledge that one or both of her uncles—and her father as well—had died by their own hands than that all three of them were—!"

"Here! None of that!" Andrew cried. He had evidently thrown caution to the winds for his tones had risen to a bellow and a door opened down the hall. Miles retreated hastily toward his screening corner of the wall near the back stairs but not before the sound of a sharp struggle came from the room where the brothers were, followed by an oath and the tinkle and crash of shattered glass.

At the thought Miles sprang down stairs and darting out of the window he concealed himself in the shadow of one of the great pillars. No one was in sight. Leaping from the porch he ran around the rear of the house to the other side. The pantry was dark now but the two faint patches of light from Roger's room still fell upon the spare grass of last year's lawn. In the glow of the farther one, something glistened like a handful of diamonds.

Broken glass! He had anticipated a pistol or perhaps even a knife of some sort but not a bottle!

Throwing himself flat upon his face the detective writhed inch by inch along the ground until he was close to the scattered fragments of the bottle and then he saw among them a number of tiny white tablets. Seizing a handful of the gravel and tablets together Miles stuffed it into a pocket of his trousers and ran swiftly around the house again to the library window.

CHAPTER V

Carter was ill the following morning—a touch of sciatica—and the new houseman was forced to assume the more complex duties. Under the kindly guidance of Pierre, he finished arranging the table for breakfast and then remembered the mail. When he had cleaned the lower hall a short time before it had not arrived, but now a small heap of letters, and rolled circulars and periods lay upon the table and he sorted them rapidly. There was nothing for Andrew. Drake nor Miss Patricia, but a formidable pile of correspondence awaited Roger and several letters were addressed to Miss Jerusha. There was only one envelope to place beside Hobart Drake's plate.

Miles noted idly that it was plain, with a typed address and a New York City postmark. Then he hurried out and returned with the fruit just as the elder Miss Drake entered.

"Good morning, William." She inclined her gray head formally. "I see you have made a good beginning. Mehtabel, my maid, tells me that Carter is ill and you have assumed his duties."

The three brothers entered almost together and took their places with a perfunctory greeting to their sister. After a moment drooping and shaken, and his drawn, young-old face paled as his glance fell on the heap of correspondence beside his plate. He pushed it aside with a gesture of horror and Andrew remarked:

"More scientific criticism, I suppose? Throw it all in the fire, old man, and don't bother your head about it!"

Patricia's entrance created a break in the tenseness of the atmosphere, and she eyed the detective in startled, confused recognition, but his expression was bland until he reached the shelter of the pantry to which her gaze had followed him, when he risked a quick nod of warning and reassurance. A slight flush suffused her face and she turned to her father, only to exclaim in amazement and alarm:

"Daddy! What is it?"

Only Miss Drake was silent but her eyes were fixed with burning intensity upon the empurpled countenance of her youngest brother as he brought his fist, clenching his solitary letter down violently upon the table.

"Trouble?" he repeated hoarsely. "Trouble enough!—It's each man for himself when you stand with your back against the wall, and I'm going to fight!"

He strode from the room with the open letter still in his hand and they heard the library door close behind him and the key turn in the lock.

The meal ended shortly and Miles was clearing away the dishes and silver when he observed that the envelope of the letter which had caused Hobart Drake such agitation was still lying where he had dropped it, on the floor beside his chair. He stooped hastily and pocketed it and then finished his work in the dining room.

He had started for the back stairs when Miss Drake asked:

"William, do you know how to drive a car?"

Had the opportunity presented itself to send the promised wire to Scottie? The detective gave an inward start.

"Yes, ma'am."

"That is fortunate, William. Mr. Hobart must be taken to the station at once."

Miles brought the car to the door to find Hobart waiting on the porch steps, watch in hand.

"Get me to the station as quick as you can."

The train was just pulling in as he drew up at the station platform. Miles noted the significant glances and nudges of the loungers as they recognized Hobart Drake and realized anew the humiliation which his young client, Miss Patricia, must have endured.

His thoughts returned again to her, the innocent victim of the mysterious calamity which had overtaken her people, when after he had safely dispatched his wire to Scottie, he was bowling slowly back to the house. It did not come wholly as a surprise when he was hailed by an athletic-looking young man who stood by a low, red runabout at the side of the road.

The young man advanced and leaned confidentially over the wheel.

"My name's Richard Kemp. I'll give you five dollars if you'll take a note to the lady up there, Miss Patricia, and see that she gets it quietly. Do you understand?"

In a quick flash of memory Miles recalled the deep blush which had mounted in the young girl's face when during their first interview at John Wells' office she mentioned the 'Kemp place,' and a light broke over him.

"I think I do, sir." He smiled slightly.

"You're all right!" Kemp clapped him on the shoulder. "There won't be any immediate answer but I'll be at—the place she knows every evening at six, sharp. Here you are!"

He produced an envelope and a five-dollar bill, both of which Miles accepted gravely.

"Thank you, sir. I'll deliver the note myself—Goodby, sir."

He drove speedily back to the Drake estate and around to the garage to put up the car. As Miles descended from the car he beheld a battle-scarred tomcat clawing to reach a plate of stale meat on a high shelf, and an inspiration came to him. Taking the envelope from his pocket containing the five tablets, he selected one of them and, rolling it in a small piece of meat he dropped it on the floor. With a growl the cat pounced upon it. For a moment the animal crouched and then its eyes widened with a look of almost human surprise. It rose, turned in a wavering half-circle and then all at once relaxed rather than fell upon its side with all four feet outstretched and the lurid eyes filmed.

So Roger had not been bluffing, after all! As Miles replaced the envelope in his pocket, his fingers came in contact with another, the one which Hobart Drake had dropped on the dining room floor. What could it have contained to drive him into such a tempest of fury?

The detective was turning it over speculatively in his hands when suddenly he uttered a sharp exclamation. He needed no magnifying glass to verify the truth; the canceled stamp had been transferred from another envelope and the postmark was a forgery. That letter had never passed through the mails!

CHAPTER VI

It was close to midnight when a stocky figure enveloped in a

ASK TO MAKE VOID BEACH OIL LEASES

Alleged failure of the Huntington Crude Oil company to find oil on a lease it held in the Huntington Beach district was given as the reason for the filing of four similar civil actions in the superior court by land owners who demand surrender of the lease.

The plaintiffs in one action were Henry and Emma Wagner. Another suit was filed by Lillie Ferris and Harry H. Ferris. John R. Wallace was plaintiff in a third and Effie Mae Franklin in a fourth suit.

They ask the court to declare void leases which they issued February 21, 1921, to W. W. Pierce, who subsequently assigned the leases to the oil company. Pierce, the oil company, the Perkins Well Cementing company, R. C. Steel, W. H. Biel, Henry E. Spencer, J. P. Detweiler, F. B. Chapin and others, were included among the defendants.

FILES APPEAL

What started as a small claims court case before Justice J. B. Cox developed today into a superior court action, when an appeal was taken by C. W. Longmire from Justice Cox's award of $50 against him and in favor of Charles Ward, who sued Longmire for a realty commission. Attorney S. B. Kaufman filed the appeal in behalf of Longmire.

In bottles and at fountains—Try Alivia—a taste o'sunshine.

heavy ulster wormed its way through a gap in the hedge and started a circuitous course about the Drake house.

A faint glimmer showed on the third floor and silhouetted against the dim patch of light appeared the profile of a man. The watcher below picked up a handful of loose gravel which he flung against the window.

Almost instantly the light was extinguished, there came the slight, grating sound of a carefully raised sash, and the tiny spark of a cigaret gleamed just above the sill. A low, peculiar whistle emanated from the lips of the nocturnal visitor and the cigaret, describing a wide arc, fell upon the lawn almost at his feet as the window was softly closed once more.

In a few moments the kitchen door opened and Owen Miles in the sweater and sneakers of his nightly vigil slipped around the corner of the house.

"Scottie, old scout; I knew you'd try to get in touch with me if you could and I've been making a motion picture 'still' of myself against that window shade since nine o'clock," he whispered. Have you learned anything?"

Volume Savings Permit Greater Value

There are hundreds of parts in a motor car. Many companies buy all, some makers build a few, of the parts that go to make up a complete motor car. For every part they buy, a partsmaker's profit must be included in the final price.

Studebaker builds every vital part. Motors, bodies, axles, transmissions, frames, tops and other parts are designed and manufactured completely from raw material to finished product in Studebaker plants, under Studebaker control and inspection.

The savings, because of tremendous volume, give the buyer extraordinary value.

Complete manufacture also explains the uniform high quality that you get in a Studebaker car, whether it is a Light-Six, a Special-Six or a Big-Six.

And uniform high quality has made Studebaker cars known everywhere for their dependable performance in owners' use.

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can.

You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction.

In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for from 20% to 25% less.

You can get the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord now, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, from any of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

EXPECTS MALLORY TO RETAIN U. S. TITLE

Tennis Expert Says Miss Browne Would Have Been Real Contender

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 20.—Because of poor health, Miss Mary K. Browne, California star and former champion, has decided not to dispute the right of Mrs. Molla Mallory to the American tennis crown.

Her withdrawal from the coming championships remove the prospect of a battle for the American title that was expected to be as hotly waged as the recent Lenglen-Mallory match for the world's crown.

"If Miss Browne hadn't worn so many clothes in the final match against Mrs. Mallory last year, she would have won the title," George F. Agutter, Forest Hills instructor and the trainer of the champion, says.

"Next to Mlle. Lenglen, Miss Browne is the most finished tennis player in the world. The French girl is supremely perfect and Miss Browne is almost as good. She lost the title last year simply because she was slowed up by heavy clothes and long, blindfold skirts," he said.

Because she is a great tournament player and because of her winning spirit, he expects Mrs. Mallory to win the championship again next month at Forest Hills.

SEND AIRPLANES TO OREGON FIRE ZONE
(United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, July 20.—Seven army airplanes were today assigned by the war department to patrol the Oregon forests as a defense against forest fires.

The Oregon patrol will be conducted by the air service personnel from Crissy Field, San Francisco and Mather Field, Sacramento.

Seven pilots and twenty enlisted men have been assigned to the work.

The patrol will operate for the next sixty days, or until the end of the forest fire season, the department announced.

Lack of appropriations has limited the patrol of the forests in Oregon, the department announced.

FORMER S. A. COMPANY IS SUED FOR $1992
David E. Davies, as assignee of an indebtedness claimed by A. A. Boynton against the former local tire firm of Hill and Guy, had today filed action in the superior court here for $1,992.50, alleged to be the amount of the claim, based on goods purchased by the tire firm from Boynton.

The suit was directed against Sam Hill, surviving member of the former partnership, Walter E. Guy, the other member, was killed in a crossing accident at Long Beach several months ago.

REASONS FOR JOHNSON

In a consideration of the senatorial contest from the standpoint of the interests of Riverside county, the Riverside Press calls attention to three facts that stand out prominently.

In the first place Hiram Johnson as governor and senator has been consistently friendly to Riverside county and prompt to act in its behalf. All who are familiar with the history of the location of the citrus station know that Governor Johnson saved the institution for Riverside by that stand he took against the removal of the station to the San Fernando valley.
The senator has just succeeded in putting the Palm canyon park bill through the senate in the face of many difficulties; and he has made a vigorous and effective fight in the senate for adequate protection for lemons, citrus by-products, walnuts, olives, and other farm products in which Riverside county is deeply interested. His support of the Boulder canyon dam and the All-American canal has been unflinching. No appeal to him for individual or community interests in Riverside county has ever failed to meet with prompt and courteous consideration and usually by satisfactory action.

(Indirectly, at least, all of the foregoing are just good reasons for the support of Johnson in Orange county as they are for his support in Riverside County.)

In the second place Johnson has won a place of leadership at Washington and has the confidence of his associates and of President Harding. This situation is made very clear by reports from Mayor Evans, H. M. May of Corona, R. N. Wilson, former farm advisor, and others who have recently visited Washington.

And last but not least, Senator Johnson is practically sure to be re-nominated and re-elected. Even those who are managing the Moore campaign in Riverside county admit this. One of the best informed men in the state on political matters said this week that it is not expected that Moore will carry more than three or four counties. The Moore organization is really intended to keep the "old guard" together for future action; there is no real hope of success for Moore.

"In the light of these facts," says the Press, "it would be political stupidity of the densest character for the Republicans of this county to give a majority for Moore; the merest tyro in politics can see that."

"In the adjoining counties of Orange and San Bernardino the 'regular' Republican leaders who were at one time opposed to Johnson are now strongly for him on the ground that he has made good in the senate and has shown signal ability and success in looking after the interests of California. That is true of R. C. Harbison of the San Bernardino Sun, A. G. Kendall, Rex Goodcell, F. W. Nutter and others in San Bernardino county and of W. B. Williams, E.
B. Collier, N. T. Edwards, and many others in Orange county. The newspapers of those two counties are practically a unit for Johnson. The three counties have worked together in politics for years; and it is important that harmony and cooperation be maintained in the future. In that way we are able to offset in some degree the ambitions of Los Angeles. It would be most unfortunate at this time with the farm school pending for Riverside county to put itself out of harmony with these two strong neighboring counties.

"There are a few extremists in this county whose prejudices are stronger than considerations of political good sense; they echo the Los Angeles Times politically; they swallow all the lies of that paper; and are blind and deaf to the real facts. The Press has no hope of them but the rank and file of the party should never be led into the grave error of following their lead. The farming, business and political interests of this country will be promoted in a powerful way by the re-election of Senator Johnson; and the bigger the majority we give him, the better
it will be for us."

The hand that rocks the cradle may rule the world, but the hand that rocks the boat throws the world away.

PEDAGOGIC PICTURES

Will Hays, movie boss, has appealed to the National Education Association to co-operate with the producers in making pictures that shall be "scientifically, psychologically and pedagogically sound," and arrangements are being made accordingly.

Much may come of this new combination of educators and film-makers, provided the patrons who are to be instructed are carefully safeguarded from all this talk of science, psychology and pedagogics.
What they want is interesting pictures, without any too flagrant an effort to educate and improve them.
Film instruction, like instruction in every other art whose success depends on public liking and free choice, must be disguised as entertainment.

With this principle followed, there is surely a great field for educational pictures. People naturally learn more through the eye than in any other way. That can be proved by watching any child. His first demand, when something new turns up, is "Show me!" Next he wants to touch it: "Let me have it in my hand!" After that he may say, "Tell me about it!"

Involuntary unemployment has almost disappeared in the United States, but voluntary unemployment is still with us.

ENGLAND PAYING

Gold is arriving from England for interest on the British war debt to this country. Liners recently have brought $10,000,000 of it, consigned to J. P.
Morgan and Company, fiscal agents for the British government, to hold "for instructions." Other shipments are to follow. Britain plans to pay $125,000, 000 in October. There is more due than that, including back interest, but it will be a good starter.

This is one of the most encouraging signs that hard-up Uncle Sam has seen in some time. Yet it need not be banked on too heavily. There will hardly be enough to pay an army bonus, for example. Britain is solvent, and Britain is willing to pay, to uphold her business credit and prove her sporting spirit, but Britain is not exactly enthusiastic about paying the whole $5,000,000,000 or so borrowed from the United States, and makes no secret of the fact that she would welcome a substantial mitigation of the amount due.

The situation is complicated by the financial diplomacy of France. That country is willing to forego part of her share of the German indemnity to help Germany out of the hole, on condition that Great Britain forgive and forget all or most of her war loans to France. And if Britain does that, there will be pressure brought to the United States to do a corresponding share of debt cancellation, to make the Golden Rule circle complete. There will be a tough problem for Uncle Sam to solve.

Pictures of Susanne Lenglen in action serve as a reminder that pudgy golf players ought to play tennis and get a little exercise.

NEWS PICTURE CENSORSHIP

A new problem of censorship is raised by the decision of a New York court that the state's motion picture commission has power to censor not only the picture plays but the representations of current events known as "news films."

This means, in effect, says the New York World, that "the people of New York State are paying officials to decide for them what samples of human life it is proper for them to see."

It does seem doubtful whether the court has sufficiently considered the distinction between censoring entertainment and censoring news. The former is now generally regarded as of unquestionable value.
The latter, the World maintains, is "inherently vicious."

No public authority in America would dare, in normal times, to censor the newspapers in their presentation of news. With the present development of motion pictures, it will well be asked whether there is any real difference between news told in type and news told in pictures. The former the reader spectator runs his eye over, line by line. The latter is run across the spectator's line of vision automatically.
Both serve the same purpose—to inform the beholder as to what is going on in the world.

Suppose a newspaper were to stop using type entirely and throw all its news on a screen in the form of pictures. That might be done some day. Would any public commission venture to censor such a publication? Then there is the related problem of news pictures printed in the papers themselves. Some metropolitan papers are now getting out special editions, all pictures from life. Surely there is no essential difference between such pictures and pictures on a screen.

Why Tariff Is Needed

San Bernardino Sun

A European cartoon reproduced in this country depicts an Englishman returning from a trip loaded with goods bought in Germany and boasting that the goods cost him next to nothing. But British workmen looking on reminded him that if the merchant buys goods in Germany which he could get at home he is putting the British workmen out of a job. Therein is the sum of the reasons for a protective tariff.

Just at present we may hear much about the effect the tariff bill, now under consideration, will have if it becomes a law. It is claimed that it will add to the cost of living. Even if it should, the man with a job at good wages is better able to buy higher priced goods than one without a job is able to purchase cheaper goods. Unquestionably Germany under present conditions can produce at a fraction of the cost in this country. The depreciated currency enables her to do that. If cheapness is the only object we should have no barrier of duties to discourage the importation of foreign goods.
Then we could buy manufactures at less than we now pay. Yet, what we would pay directly for the foreign goods would not be all that we would pay.
We could pay an additional sum in the loss in idle industries and idle men.

It would be ideal, perhaps, could that which each individual wishes to buy be duty free and that which he sells be subject to a protective tariff.
That appears to be the kind of a tariff a good many people want. The absurdity of such a proposition is apparent, though Congress in framing a tariff law has to face demands in their essentials not less ridiculous. Because there are so many conflicting interests each pulling for itself is the reason a tariff bill arouses opposition, yet so long as we need to raise revenue from every possible source duties must be levied. In levying them we not only get the revenue but we benefit those citizens who are producing in competition with the foreigner who ships his goods here. All tariff measures arouse opposition while pending. The present one seems to be meeting merely the fate of predecessors.

Gossip Incites to Murder

Long Beach Press

It was mischievous, vicious, groundless gossip by a female busybody which inflamed the mind of Mrs. A. L. Phillips and frenzied her with jealousy until her mad passion resulted in the shocking slaying of Mrs. Alberta Meadows. This is the conviction of attaches of the sheriff's office in Los Angeles.
One of the deputies of Sheriff Traeger is quoted as saying:

"A woman's tongue has battered another woman to death. But it is still working—working to send another woman to the mad house, a penitentiary or a gibbet. And what can be done about it? Nothing. That busy tongue will wag on despite all the damage it has already done."

A faithful arraignment of the miserable wretch, male or female, who would wreck reputations and create suspicions. In this case a woman, by going to Mrs. Phillips with covert suspicions, veiled hints and warped truths, brought on one of the most appalling deeds ever committed in this state. And now that she has inspired this gruesome tragedy, this mischief-maker, a few days ago posing as the friend of Mrs. Phillips, is just as ready to turn against her.

This is the typical character of the gossip and busybody—treacherous, without conscience, caring naught for the trouble, the heartache, the positive harm accomplished.

What to do about it? Arrest and punish every one who circulates a slanderous lie, if it be possible to place guilt upon the slanderer—but oftentimes this is not possible. For the slanderer is a coward and speaks in whispers and hides his or her seditiously work. Another thing, there would soon be an end to malicious gossip if no one would listen to it. Too many persons are overfond of hearing the urbane about others. It is the eager ear that inspires the gossipier.

Beginning a Dry Breeze

San Bernardino Telegram

Prohibition visits the orient, stays 48 hours and gets out. This happens in Manila, where a new law prohibits sale of liquor on registration and election days.

It is the first time that part of the world has had a bone-dry spell since primitive men of the Philippine Islands discovered that fermented juice of the nipa palm "went to the head."

Manila took the closing of bars good naturedly, and chuckled as it patted the hip-flask. It might not chuckle if it knew that locking the barroom during voting was the way prohibition got its real start in America.

The handwriting is on the wall, Manila.

SILENT PLACES

There is a peace that comes in silent places;
In sanctity of field and stream and tree,
We read the hand of God where nature's face is Untouched by scars of modern industry.
By urge of our city life mankind is driven
Like some dumb beast that knows not where or why;
Until with brain and body torture-riven
He heeds at last his soul's despairing cry.

That cry is for the shimmer of a river,
The languid breeze and cool green of the trees,
The fragrant fields, where sunbeams glint and quiver—
And only in the country we find these.
There is a peace that only silence brings—
When a man goes back to God and rural things.

—By Ruth Bassett.

Tom Sims Says

A man can inherit dollars but not sense.
Tariff boosts wool and the strike boosts coal. It will be easy to keep cool next winter.

Funny things happen. One store is advertising petticoats.
A speeder doesn't break any records getting out of the hospital.
With six million things at home that are fine to worry about some people keep up with the Chinese war.
The outlook is brighter. We say a man buy a new dinner basket.
The man always turning up his nose might as well turn up his toes.
When an office starts out to seek a man it usually finds him coming to meet it.

Very few men who long for the good old days could eat through six inches of mustache.
The millennium will be here when a church bell draws as big a crowd as a fire bell.

"He knocked me down 30 times," says a Kentucky woman asking divorce. Thirty is too many.
The boss can get away with loafing on the job by pretending he is figuring out something.

One-half the world doesn't know why the other half lives.
You never have to go to any trouble to find trouble.
A nickel isn't as good as a dime, but it goes to church more often.
One day last week a man understood what a train caller said.
Another society crook has been caught. Some people are not known by the company they keep.

You seldom see a fly going out through a hole in a screen.
Many family trees have some crooked branches.
No matter what happens, somebody always knew it would.
The honeymoon ends when the furniture store collector begins.
In Africa, the native girls want American clothes. Somebody is going to get sunburned.

Women are vain, but every barber's mirror sees some funny things.
No matter what a man believes he can't do, he is right.
Lots of aviators fall down on the job because they don't learn the business from the ground up.

So many women are shooting their husbands the men are getting afraid to take out insurance.

Why is it that nearly all rich men look like 30 cents?
All you have to do to get a crowd to follow you is find out which way the crowd is going.

Time to Smile

WHAT MAKES THEM WILD

The printer set up a poster to advertise an address by a militant suffragette. Her subject was, "Woman: Without Her, Man Would Be a Savage." When the speaker called for the posters the proofreader had to leave town suddenly, for the flaming sheets read, "Woman, Without Her Man, Would be a Savage."—American Labor World.

SHE KNEW

The strong-looking lady with the prognathous (see dictionary) jaw went to a lawyer and said:
"I want to file suit against my husband for absolute divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment."

"Very well, Madam. Do you expect him to fight the suit?"
"I'll say he won't," said the lady calmly.
"Him fight me? Huh! It's been two years since the timid little shrimp dared to come into the room where I was!"

DISQUALIFIED

A teacher asked, as reported by a London comic paper,
"What would King Alfred, if he were alive now, think of the Home Rule Bill?" and the boy answered, "If King Alfred were alive now he would be too old to be interested in politics."

Federal Legislation to Regulate Flying

New York, July 12, 1922.

Editor Register:—The prominence which is frequently given to aircraft accidents emphasizes the urgent need for public expression demanding the immediate enactment of Federal legislation regulating flying.

Within the last few weeks a number of editorial and news discussions have been noted in your paper, but we wish to point out that regret alone will not remedy the situation. We therefore request you to call to the attention of your readers that the organized aircraft industry for the last three years has sought the passage of regulatory law. A bill to this end (S.3076) sponsored by Senator Wadsworth, passed the Senate months ago, and is being revised for passage in the House by Representative Winslow.
Consideration will be hastened to the degree that public demand is manifest.

The Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce estimates there are 1,200 commercial aircraft in operation.
During the year Oct. 1, 1920-Oct. 1,
1921, these flew 6,250,000 to 6,500, 600 miles, carrying 250,000 passengers. Six hundred of these planes were piloted by gypsy fliers, who lack corporate or legal responsibility. Of the 114 accidents causing 49 deaths and injuries to 89, reported in the period named, most, if not all, were among this class of fliers. Six hundred planes are controlled by 125 operators with a fixed base or financial responsibility, which, to a degree, results in reliability such as would be realized more completely were Federal law in existence. Yet these operators, who made 130,736 flights, covering 2,907,245 miles and carrying 122,512 passengers, did not, in the period named, kill a single person in straight commercial flight.
It is from this record, rather than from that of the itinerant flier, that the safety of flight should be judged. And with this record as a basis, it is apparent that Federal law, imposing regulations upon those who at present are irresponsible, will have most beneficent results. State or local ordinances are ineffective; national control alone will meet the need.

Yours very truly,
AERONAUTICAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF AMERICA, INC.

Little Benny's

Note Book

By Lee Pope

Pop and ma was up in the settin' room looking at different parts of the Sunday paper last Sunday, and I waked back in the kitchen and nobody wasent back there and I had a idee, thinking, G, I know, I'll make some coco and take it up to pop and ma for a surprise.

Which I did, taking me a long while to make it on account of having to look all over the kitchen for the coco, and I put it in 2 cups and sawers and took them up in the settin' room, saying, Who wants coco, heer you are, fresh coco, get it while its hot.

Well I declare, who made it? ma
sed, and I sed, I did, and she sed, Wat nonsents, and pop sed, Now mother, is that any way to except a loving gift? After the poor boy toils and molls making coco for you the leest you can do is except the gift in the proper spirit.

But I didnt think there was a drop of coco in the house and en-way he has no idee how to make coco, ma sed, and now sed, That's wat they sed about Edison before he made the electric lite, but he made it jest the same, and Benny made the coco and heer it is all made so lets give credit were credit is due.

Heers your, pop, I sed, And I gave pop a cup and he sed, Its a bewtifful color, Ill say that much for it at the very start. And he drank about half of it rite down and started to make a farsee face and jest made a ordnerry one, saying, Not so bad, not bad at all.

Well, Ill take a sip, ma sed, And she took her cup and taisted it and started to cawf like anything saying, Wat did you put in this, ware did you find it? and I sed, Wat the coco? It was in the little round can on the 2nd shelf, and ma sed, Cin-namin, jest as I thart, cinnamin.

The dooce, wat the blazes, pop sed, And he kepp on twisting his mouth around and drinking water all afternoon.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Guinea-Pig in Danger

By Olive Roberts Barton

Poor little George Guinea-Pig was unhappy. He was tired of being made fun of because he had no tail.

So one day he went to the house of Dr. Snuffles, the fairymen doctor, and told him his troubles.

"Is there anything I can do?" he asked. "Is there any medicine I can take that will grow me a tail?"
"Nothing I know of," answered the kind little doctor. "Nancy, Nick, did you ever hear of anything good for growing tails?"

The Twins said they had never heard of anything.

So George, paddled off home again to the old box beside the hen-house. He felt so unhappy big tears dropped from his funny little black shoe-button eyes.

"Oh, me, oh, my!" he wailed.
"I'd be the happiest person in the world if only I had a tail."
Now old Oscar Owl had heard the whole thing and he cooked up a plan.

"I see where I get two meals tonight instead of one," he hooted.
"Little Plippy Fieldhouse just got done telling his mama he was tired of his long tail because it was always giving away his hiding hole. I'll telephone to both of them."

So he called up the hen-house and asked Mrs. Leghorn please to get George Guinea-Pig to the telephone.

George came at once.

"This is a friend," croaked Oscar Owl. "I know where you can find a tail. Come to the edge of Whispering Forest under the old hickory tree at eight sharp."

"I'll be there!" squeaked George happily.

Then Oscar called up the Fieldmouse's. Only he told Flop that he knew how he could lose his tail—which was more like the truth.
